STORY SEQUEL TO KIDNAPPING

Tale of How Regina Patton Was Stolen by Her Father at Arlington Years Ago Like Fiction

AT LAST FOUND BY MOTHER
Living in Los Angeles for Decade
Among Strangers, Girl is Loca-
ter by Accident

The kidnapping of little Regina Patton, then nine years old, by her own father ten years ago while she was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Clell McDaniel, of Arlington, has a sequel in the unexpected finding of the girl by her mother, Mrs. John Ludlow of Indianapolis, a sister of Mrs. McDaniel.

For a decade Mrs. Ludlow has been endeavoring to locate her lost daughter. Yesterday she read an article in the Indianapolis Star from Los Angeles, Cal., which told of a girl by the same name as her daughter appealing to the police to find her relatives. A message was dispatched to the girl at once and now the home made happy by the accidental discovery of the long lost daughter, is being prepared for her homecoming.

The story appeared in the Indianapolis Star today and Mrs. McDaniel, over the telephone this morning, confirmed it in every detail. Mrs. McDaniel said that Regina had been sent on an errand and never returned. No accurate account of the disappearance of the child was ever obtained by the mother. Some Arlington people were found who said a man stopped the little girl on the street, placed her in a vehicle and drove away.

From that day to this Mrs. Ludlow has continued the fruitless search. She was an invalid because of the constant worry about her daughter. When she read the article yesterday, Mrs. Ludlow fainted and relatives had to send a message for her to Los Angeles telling the girl to come home. She was also suffering from an injury to her leg caused by falling several days ago.

The child was so young when kidnapped at Arlington that she did not remember the names of all her relatives and did not know her own first name. Her nickname was "Reo," which she gave in the letter received in Indianapolis. Some of the relatives whose names the girl gave are dead.

Mrs. Ludlow was divorced from her first husband, William Patton, a railroad man, twelve years ago, and she was given the custody of the only daughter. The mystery of why the girl's father should kidnap her and take her to a distant city among strangers had not been explained. She never heard from her father after he left her in Los Angeles. Mrs. Ludlow believes that Patton was killed after taking the child.

Immediately after the kidnapping a decade ago, Mrs. Ludlow sought the aid of the police and employed a detective agency, but without avail. She also inserted newspaper advertisements from time to time.

PASSES ALASKA DRY BILL

Senate Favors Measure Prohibiting Intoxicating Liquors

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 31.—The senate today passed the Alaska "bone" dry prohibition bill.

The bill not only prohibits the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor in Alaska but will not permit it to be shipped into the territory.

—Mrs. Lura A. Marshall of Arlington was a shopper in Rushville today.

BOTH AFFLICTED SAME WAY

Mrs. Arnold Mull and Daughter Nellie Operated on for Abscesses

Mrs. Arnold Mull and daughter Miss Nellie are both at the sanatorium of Dr. J. C. Sexton where they were operated on for abscesses in the cavity of the pleura occasioned by pneumonia. They were both critically ill with pneumonia and the abscesses developed. Mrs. Mull underwent an operation Sunday and her daughter was rushed there yesterday for a similar operation. Both are in a serious condition but their recovery is expected. They reside southwest of the city.

SAYS "LEAK" DID NOT KILL MARKET

E. F. Hutton, Stock Broker, Tells Probers Secretary Lansing's Interpretation Was Cause.

EXONERATES THE CONNOLYS

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Jan. 31.—Secretary Lansing's interpretation of President Wilson's peace message and not the "leak" to Wall street was what killed the market, E. F. Hutton, stock broker, told the house committee probers today.

He held that the kick originating in the house of F. A. Connolly and company, of which President Wilson's brother-in-law is a member, was not responsible for the break.

If Connolly had real inside information, they failed to use it to advantage, it developed today, for their account showed losses of $40,000 in trading during the "leak" period. Nor was the firm short on selling during that time.

The committee has had all the so-called "leak" messages of the Hutton house.

George Ellis, member of the Hutton firm, was today summoned to return from Georgia to testify on the Hutton "leak" message before the committee.

MORE COUNCILMEN SEEK RE-ELECTION

Chase Mauzy and R. F. Scudder Announce They Are Candidates for Places on G. O. P. Ticket

ONE OTHER ALREADY IN RACE

Chase Mauzy and R. F. Scudder today declared their intentions of being candidates for councilmen-at-large on the republican ticket. Both men will seek re-election on their records, which is believed to entitle them to another term. Mr. Scudder was elected at the last city election and Mr. Mauzy was elected by the council to fill an unexpired term. Both councilmen have devoted much of their time to the affairs of the city and are asking the nomination and re-election as business men who have the best interests of the city in mind.

The republican field is rapidly filling. Yesterday A. P. Wagoner announced his candidacy for councilman from the Third ward. There are three candidates for clerk and two candidates for mayor.

ENGLISH LOSES IN MONTH

Death of Ralph S. Gregory Recalls One of the Bitterest Conventions Ever Held in 6th

The death of Ralph S. Gregory, judge of the city court of Muncie, recently, recalls one of the most bitterly contested and exciting congressional nominating conventions ever held in eastern Indiana.

When Thomas M. Browne of Winchester, who represented the old Sixth (Barnt) district in congress for many years, died in 1890, there were a number of aspirants to succeed him. Tom Browne, as he was familiarly known, was a man of scholarly attainments, and an orator of unusual ability. He could quote Shakespeare as readily as he could call the names of his constituents, discuss agriculture with the farmers intelligently, present the arguments of labor organizations logically, preach protection effectively, and appeal to the patriotism of the people eloquently, handling all the various issues involved in a political campaign with wonderful skill, and unusual facility. A large man, with a lionine head, and a tremendous shock of hair, streaked with gray, he was a commanding figure on or off the platform. Senator James E. Watson, who is a cousin of Tom Browne, resembles him in many respects, especially in the fervent style and dramatic power of his oratory.

The old Sixth District was then composed of the counties of Randolph, Delaware, Henry, Wayne, Union, Fayette and Rush.

The convention was held in New-castle, and the candidates were Henry U. Johnson of Richmond, Judge Mark E. Forkner of New-castle, Judge W. A. Cullen of Rushville, and Ralph S. Gregory of Muncie. The several candidates had the delegations from their respective home counties, but it was known after their election that some of the delegates from Henry county were not really loyal to Judge Forkner, and that Mr. Gregory had opposition in the Delaware county delegation, although under the unit rule, the solid vote of these counties were cast for their respective candidates.

MEN PICKED TO RUN IN PRIMARY

Democratic Caucus Results in Candidates for Mayor, City Treasurer and 3 for Council

NO OPPOSITION IS LIKELY

John D. Megee Allows His Name to go Before Primary for Mayor
—Two Are Out for Clerk

With the time limit for filing declarations of candidacy drawing to a close, the political pot has begun to boil. To get their names on the ballots for the primary election to be held March 6 the candidates must file their declarations by next Monday. This is the final day under the law as they must be filed 30 days before the primary.

The meeting of the democratic organization last night turned out to be more in the nature of a convention. Judge John D. Megee was decided on as the candidate for mayor. It is presumed there were sufficient demands for him to make the race as he stated that he would not run simply for the sake of the office but to satisfy his friends who were urging him to enter the race. It is well understood that there will be no opposition to Judge Megee in the democratic camp.

With the head of the ticket selected the work of picking the candidates for councilmen was then started. Walter Thomas and John Crawley were picked as the candidates for councilmen-at-large. Thomas was a candidate for councilmen, at the last city election, from the First ward. Then the caucus decided that Morris W. Winship was the man to run from the First ward. The names of the other candidates for councilmen were not given for publication.

It is understood that the organization has picked the men to run for councilmen in the other wards but owing to the fact that the consent of the candidates must first be secured, the list was not completed today.

Knowles Casady is the democratic candidate for city treasurer. He will likely have no opposition for the nomination. The only fight promised at the primary is for city clerk. There are two candidates, Ozro Farthing and Wilbur Stevens. The meeting last night was attended by a large crowd.

COUNTY ROADS IN BAD SHAPE

Bottom Seems to Have Fallen Out of Them and Traffic is Very Hard and Tedious

HAL GREEN ISSUES WARNING

Says That Heavy Hauling Must Cease or Prosecutions Will Follow

The roads of Rush county are in a fearful condition, absolutely without bottoms and making traffic hard and tedious. The warm weather, with a freeze every night and a thaw during the day, has made the roads regular mud holes, a thing that usually happens about this time of the year. Road Superintendent Hal Green issued a warning today against heavy hauling and declared that prosecutions would follow if the roads were used while in this condition.

Mr. Green stated that the condition of the roads was due largely to the fact that automobile travel has not ceased and the heavy machines simply tear the roads to pieces. One of the worst examples in the entire county is the Glenwood pike. At Mauzy the road was in such shape that an automobile could not get through. Mr. Green went to Mauzy this morning and intended to prevent autos from traveling the road if this were possible.

For about one-quarter of a mile along the Jonathan Wilson farm the road is absolutely impassable. As many as four automobiles at one time were stuck in the mud there yesterday. One farmer near there worked until eleven o'clock last night to get an auto out of the mire. Mr. Green announced that this section of the road would be ditched tomorrow in an effort to get rid of the water that stands at both sides of the highway.

Mr. Green also announced that every assistant road superintendent in the county was out today dragging the roads. By remaining off the roads tomorrow with the heavy machines, they should soon be in first class condition.

The same condition exists throughout the county only not so bad as on the Glenwood pike. This is one of the heaviest traveled highways in the county and it is practically cut to pieces. Mr. Green stated that in his opinion the road would settle in a few days if the warm weather continued. The problem would be solved with a

THREE TOWNSHIPS TO HOLD INSTITUTES

Union, Washington and Fairview in Fayette Will Combine in Session Saturday

THE PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

The farmers and teachers institutes of three townships will combine in the annual institute to be held in the Fairview school building on Saturday. The principal speakers for the all day session are to be C. M. McConnell of Lafayette and Mrs. Orme of Southport. The program will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A basket dinner will be served in the school building at noon and the entire communities of Union and Washington townships in this county and Fairview in Fayette are co-operating in making the institute a success.

The agriculture and domestic science classes of the school will have exhibits of their work, the former conducting a corn show. Both of the speakers for the institute are said to be exceptionally well informed on their line of work. The detailed program follows:

Ten o'clock, address by Mr. McConnell on "Producing a Corn Crop;" 11 o'clock, talk by Mrs. Orme on "The Farm Home, its Health, Comfort and Convenience;" 2 o'clock, address by Mr. McConnell on "Community Organization;" 3 o'clock "The Twentieth Century Problem," by Mrs. Orme. Miss Mary Hinchman will give several readings and there will be music by the high school orchestra at the afternoon session.

EPIDEMIC CLOSES HOMER SCHOOL

With Forty Cases of Measles Reported, Authorities Stop Classes for Two Weeks

EPIDEMIC LATE IN ARRIVING

An epidemic of measles has forced the Homer school to close. The school closed yesterday for a period of two weeks and at the end of this time if the epidemic has not abated the vacation will be extended.

In all there are about forty cases of measles. It was stated today that the entire school consisting of 145 pupils had been exposed to the disease. The high school, composed of forty pupils, is included. On Monday of this week twenty pupils were absent from one room and the cases became so numerous that it was useless to attempt to hold school.

The epidemic is late in hitting Homer. Almost every school in the county was affected this winter and many closed.

The degree team of the local order of Odd Fellows conferred the degree upon several candidates at Carthage last evening.

WRIGHT BILL UP TOMORROW AT 2

Prohibition Measure Will be Made Special Order of Business in the Upper House

COMMITTEE REPORTS FOR IT

Constitutional Bill Delayed After
Charges That an Attempt Was Being Made to Rush It

(By United Press.)
BULLETIN.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The Wright prohibition bill will be made a matter of special business for two o'clock tomorrow afternoon when it will come up for passage, Lieut. Gov. Bush announced today.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—After charges were made in the senate today that an attempt was being made to rush the constitutional bill through the upper house of the legislature without giving the measure due consideration action on the bill was postponed until the afternoon.

The Wright prohibition bill was recommended for passage by the senate committee on rights and privileges. Thousands of prohibitionists were arriving in Indianapolis today to be on hands for the final action on the measure expected tomorrow. An attempt to amend the bill so that drug stores would be prohibited from selling intoxicating liquors, is under consideration, it was learned today. Senator Chambers of Newcastle is believed to be backing the amendment.

The visiting committee appointed by Former Governor Ralston today made its recommendations for appropriations to the house. The committee recommended that the tax levy for the maintenance of Indiana university, Purdue university and the state normal school be raised to 20.7. It explained that salaries were practically doubled in 1916 as compared to 1913.

The committee asked that $259,900 be appropriated for the improvement of the village for epileptics beside the regular appropriation of $77,500. The specific appropriation is for the purchase of land and construction of additional cottages.

VESEY SPRINGS A SECOND SURPRISE

Chairman of House Committee With Suffrage Bill Now Says That He is For It.

HE WILL MAKE SPEECH FOR IT

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Dick M. Vesey, representative from Fort Wayne and the surprise of the legislative session, today sprang another sensation when he announced that he favored passing of the woman's suffrage bill. He sprang his first surprise by voting for the prohibition bill when he was supposed to be wet.

Vesey, who is chairman of the house committee considering woman's suffrage, was supposed to be opposed to the measure and announced early this week that the bill would not be reported out.

He Fort Wayne representative stated today, however, that he not only favored the measure but that he would make a speech for it if the bill reaches the floor of the house.

Charles Tindall, an attorney of Greenfield has filed suit in the Rush circuit court against Richard R. Harter, on an account, demanding $500. Tindall alleges that he was employed at Harter's attorney in a law suit and that the sum of $500 is still due him.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

GOING ON WHEELS

From the Ancient Chariot to the Modern Motorcar.

EVOLUTION OF THE VEHICLE.

The Crude Carts Used in the Early Ages by the Romans Were Followed by Carriages—Then Came Covered Coaches With Doors and Windows.

From the forked limb of a tree to the automobile has the evolution of the vehicle expanded. For hundreds of years the chariot reigned supreme, and bearing a fair resemblance to it even in this day, crude forms of carts on two wheels are to be seen in India, China, Ceylon, Mexico and other countries. In China centuries ago the monowheel was in great favor. This odd vehicle, much like the modern wheelbarrow, is still in general use in many parts of the country and is propelled by man power.

Among the two wheeled vehicles in popular use in the Asiatic world may be mentioned the "ekka," largely used in northern India, and the famed jiriksha of Japan. The Romans first established the use of carriages as private means of conveyance, and with them these vehicles attained a great variety of form as well as of ornamentation.

In all ages the employment of wheeled vehicles has depended largely upon the condition of the roads on which they were to be used, and the building of great highways, such as the Appian way by Claudius in 313 B. C., as well as many others, greatly facilitated the development of carriage traveling among the Romans. In Rome as well as in other large cities of the empire it became necessary to restrict travel in carriages to a few persons of high rank owing to the narrowness and crowded condition of the streets. For the same reason the transport of goods along the streets was forbidden between sunrise and sunset. For long journeys and to convey parties the "reda" and "carruca" appear to have been mostly used.

During the empire the carriage which appears in pictorial representations of public ceremonials is the "carpentum." It is very light, with two wheels, sometimes covered and generally drawn by two horses. If a carriage was drawn by four horses they were yoked abreast among the Greeks and Romans, not in pairs, as now. From the Roman "carruca" are traced the modern English name "carriage," the French "carrosse" and the Italian "carrozza."

The "siripa" was a very ancient form of vehicle, the body of which was of osier basketwork. It originated with the Gauls, by whom it was named "benna," and was employed by them for the conveyance of persons and goods in times of peace and baggage and supplies in time of war.

On the introduction of the feudal system throughout Europe the use of carriages was for some time prohibited as tending to render the vassals less fit for military service. Men of all grades and professions rode on horses or mules. Horseback was the general mode of traveling, and hence the members of the council, who at the diet and on other occasions were employed as ambassadors, were called "ritmeister."

In this manner also great lords made their public entry into cities.

Covered carriages were known in the beginning of the fifteenth century, but their use was confined to ladies of the first rank, and it was accounted a reproach for men to ride in them. For a long time they were forbidden even to women, but by the end of the fifteenth century they were being employed by kings and princes in long journeys and later on state occasions.

The first time that ambassadors appeared in coaches on a public official occasion was at the imperial commission held at Erfurt in 1613. Soon after this coaches became common all over Germany, notwithstanding various orders and admonitions to deter vassals from using them.

Carriages seem to have been used to some extent at quite an early period in France, for there is still extant an ordinance of Philip the Fair, issued in 1294, by which citizens' wives are prohibited from using them. It appears, however, that about 1550 there were only three carriages in Paris—one belonging to the queen, another to Diana of Poitiers and the third to Rene de Laval, a very fat nobleman who was unable to ride on horseback.

The first coach in England was made in 1555 for the Earl of Rutland by Walter Rippon, who also made a coach in 1556 for Queen Mary and in 1564 a state coach for Queen Elizabeth. By the beginning of the seventeenth century the use of carriages and coaches had become so prevalent in England that in 1601 the attention of parliament was drawn to the subject, and a bill "to restrain the excessive use of coaches" was introduced, which, however, was rejected.

In regard to carriage construction, it would seem that glass windows or hinged and completed doors were unknown prior to 1650. Public carriages for hire, or hackney coaches, were introduced into London in 1625 and rapidly grew in popularity. Notwithstanding the opposition of the king and court, who thought they would ruin the roads, they grew to number over 300 by 1650. In Paris they were introduced during the minority of Louis XIV. by Nicholas Sauvage, who lived in the Rue St. Martin at the sign of St. Pierre, from which circumstance hackney carriages in Paris have since been called "fiacres." By 1694 there were over 700 of these conveyances in London.—Argonaut.

FUSSY AUNT SALLY.

She is One of Those Who Always Find a Task Undone.

Our Aunt Sally always has one or two more things to do at night before she can go to bed. We were at her home a few weeks ago, and all of us sat up until late. At about 11 o'clock Uncle Buckram gave a yawn, and in thirty minutes everybody was under the cover listening to the rain—everybody except Aunt Sally. She decided that while everything was quiet she would sew the buttons on the new trousers she was making for Buckram. When this was finished she started to bed, but she remembered that she hadn't set her yeast. She went back into the kitchen and worked for about twenty minutes, and then it seemed that she was through with everything for the night.

We were almost asleep when she brought in another quilt. She said it might turn cold during the night and that we could pull it up if we needed it. She went back to her room and stood perfectly still for a few seconds. Evidently she was trying to think of something else to do before going to bed, and she thought of it. She decided she had best sprinkle down her clothes so they would from better next day. When this was finished she folded the rough dried pieces and put them away.

At last the house was dark. The rain was pouring down, and we turned over for a good sleep. After we turned, we were facing the barn, and we saw Aunt Sally out there with a lamp. She managed to keep the lamp dry, but in a few minutes it went out. A little later we heard her enter the house, and while feeling for a place to set the lamp she said: "I declare that fool hen hasn't any sense. I put her up in a dry place and she wouldn't stay there. She seems determined to drown, and I ought to let her do it, but I guess I'd better go back and see about her."—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The Gem offers Carter DeHaven in the drama "Fame at Last" for the first picture tonight. The last is a drama "The Beautiful Temple at Ceyhen." Tomorrow Helen Holmes will be seen in the next chapter of "A Lass of the Lumberlands."
"A Million a Minute," the sensational five reel feature in which Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne are starred, is the attraction at the Princess tonight. It is a picturization made from the successful novel of the same name written by Hudson Douglas. There are many interesting scenes taken in and around New York, on shipboard and along Broadway and the cafe life and underworld of Paris are faithfully reproduced. The story is one of intrigue, romance, adventure and mystery, together with a comedy relief, which makes for the most satisfactory entertainment. Tomorrow the feature "His Wife's Good Name" will be shown.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

A DENTISTS FORMULA

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

A Lesson in Defense.

Since about all the national guardsmen have been recalled from the border, it is well that the people who are interested in the future welfare of their nation give pause and consider just what sort of defense this country would have with no more reserve army than the national guard. The lessons of the mobilization of the guard on the border have been viewed in many different ways. The mayor's committee on national defense of New York City think the mobilization proves conclusively that universal training under federal control is the only solution to the problem.

Following an inquiry that began soon after the call for state troops last June, the executive committee of the mayor's committee on national defense has issued its report upon the mobilization of the national guard. The report embodies the main substance of a mass of information both economic and military, gathered from both official and unofficial sources.

Giving the officers and enlisted men of the guard full credit for their enthusiasm and spirit of patriotic sacrifices, the report says; nevertheless, that the mobilization has proved universal training under a single federal control to be the only satisfactory solution of the nation's military problem. But inasmuch as the perfection of a scheme of universal training will take time, the report says an immediate need is to provide an adequate standing force for the protection of the country's borders and other similar service.

The committee merely presents facts and draws from them the conclusion that voluntary enlistment and dependence upon the dual federal and state control have proved a failure. It does not attempt to recommend any particular system of defense, holding that the details should be worked out by the military experts whose knowledge and experience are at the disposal of congress.

By direct inquiry of guardsmen, the committee ascertained that 65 per cent. of the men had to give up their regular civilian income when they went into service. Many of them, in addition, lost their positions and were unable to get them back when mustered out. There has been much surmise about enlistment in the future, but the committee went direct to the guardsmen and asked them whether they intended to re-enlist. Eighty-four per cent. of those who answered this question said "no." A great number declared emphatically for universal service, and said they would not do military duty henceforth under any other system.

Economic considerations received the main emphasis in the committee's inquiry. Letters and blanks were sent out to employers as well as guardsmen, and in this way information of a kind not contained in public documents was acquired. Guardsmen told about their pecuniary losses and the suffering caused their dependents; and employers told of the effect of the mobilization on business, and gave their conception of a sound national military policy.

It is a curious story which the Providence Journal tells—that the president, when he communicates with Col. House, has to do so through Dr. Grayson because there have been so many "leaks" of confidential matter from the white house. If the plan worked well in the case of the Colonel, why didn't the president try it with the European belligerents?

We never could abide the fellow who talks learnedly on subjects he knows nothing about. And that, gentlemen, is why we have never attempted to diagnose the mind of a woman.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy, feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

KEEP A JAR OF MUSTEROLE HANDY

It Quickly Loosens Up Coughs and Colds in Throat or Chest

Just a little Musterole rubbed on your sore, tight chest before you go to bed will loosen up congestion and break up most severe colds and coughs.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made with oil of mustard. Simply rub it on. No plaster necessary. Better than mustard plaster and does not blister.

Thousands who use Musterole will tell what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds, (it often prevents pneumonia).

GERMANY READY TO FORMULATE TERMS

Holland Dispatches Say New Peace Move Was Decided at Conference on Kaiser's Birthday

IS WILLING TO TELL AMERICA

London, Jan. 31.—Germany is about to tell America that she is ready to formulate her peace terms if the allies request them, in a communication to Ambassador Bernstorff at Washington. Holland dispatches today gave this as a new German peace move apparently decided upon at the conference on the kaiser's birthday.

These reports aroused the greatest interest today but there was an entire lack of response to the suggestion that the allies submit it for a formal request of Germany's peace terms. England and her allies feel that they have sufficiently answered German peace terms as well as President Wilson's three notes on peace.

First intimation that Germany was sending another communication to America was made in dispatches received here Monday from Berlin. These followed persistent reports from Berlin that the kaiser would mark his birthday by some further peace move.

MOTION PICTURE ACTORS.

Coached In Emotional Expression by Phonograph Music.

The lot of a movie star has its hours of trial and tribulation, as well as of satisfaction. The sharp call of the director to "register joy" or "register terror" or register any one of the thousand and one human emotions which are displayed upon the film must be obeyed, whatever the emotion which happens to be uppermost in the actor's mind at the moment. It is not easy always to have such facile command of the face, as is demanded for this work, either from the camera artist or the worker in the "legitimate," and for the former it is perhaps even harder than for the latter, since many of the accessories which go to throw the actor on the stage into the split of his work are absent in the studio. It cannot be easy to register longing in the midst of a babel of directors and property men and disengaged performers, with the camera grinding away in front of one and a half dozen strange "sets" being noisily erected on all sides.

To assist the actor in this thankless task the phonograph has been called into play. Picture the sweet country maid dreaming of her lover in a faroff land. The director tells her to look wistful, longing, melancholy or what you will. He gives the command "Go!" which is the signal for action, the talking machine is started, and the strains of "I Hear You Calling Me" are heard. A sympathetic note is struck in the heart of the actress, her facial expression is indicative of the effect of the music, and the proper mood is called forth.

"We know how much music enhances the effect of the motion picture as presented in the theater," says the director responsible for this innovation. "The audience does not often realize the importance of the musical accompaniment, but omit the music and they will feel the difference in a moment."—Philadelphia Press.

A BAD BACK
MADE GOOD

(By L. W. BOWER, M. D.)

Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys, hence the congestion of blood causes backache in the same manner as a similar congestion in the head causes headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack of ambition to do things.

The latest and most effective means of overcoming this trouble, is to eat sparingly of meat, drink plenty of water between meals and take a single Anuric tablet before each meal for a while.

Simply ask your favorite druggist for Anuric (double strength) if you aren't feeling up to the standard. If you have lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, begin immediately this treatment with Anuric. Most scientists and medical men believe that because of an over-abundance of uric acid in the system, uratic salts are deposited in the tissues and cause rheumatism and gout.

The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Institution in Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested Anuric and have been with one accord successful in eradicating and throwing off from the system the uric acid which accumulates and poisons. Patients having once used Anuric at this institution have repeatedly sent back for more.

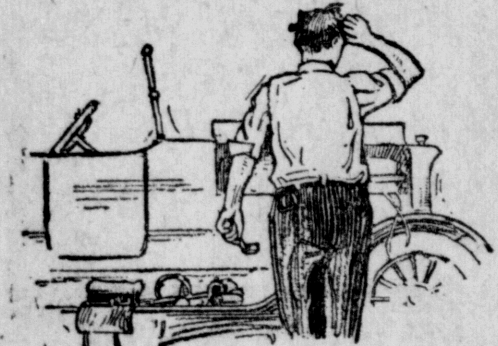

Such a demand has been created that Doctor Pierce decided to put Anuric in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. It will be their own fault of those suffering from uric acid troubles do not take advantage of this wonderful remedy—(Adv.)

We do not use the guesswork way—

But we use AMBU. The scientific way:

which means we save you from 10 to 20 hours in repair bills when you have trouble. You can save expense and trouble by having your car tested each month. Troubles not apparent will be found and eliminated before great damage is done.

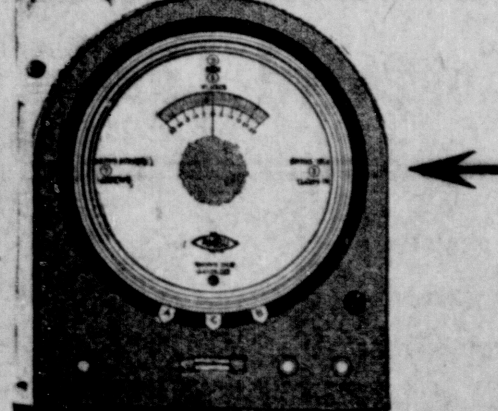

BUT WE DO MORE THAN THAT.

By our monthly inspection service, we catch and stop non-apparent troubles before great damage is done.

This scientific service is possible because we have "inside information" about the miniature electric plant on your car—a complete knowledge of its construction—wiring diagrams showing every wire on your car, and AMBU, the systematic tester and trouble finder.

This is another example of our desire to secure for the car owner, the newest and most valuable service-inventions in the electric engineering field.

HOMER AND MILROY PLAY

Will Serve to Settle Controversy at
Invitational Tournament

More than usual interest attached to the game between the Milroy and Homer basketball teams at Milroy next Friday night because it will serve to settle the controversy aroused at the recent invitational basketball tournament at Milroy for small high schools. A discussion arose over the score of the deciding game between these two quintets and it was never played out. The basketball, the trophy of the tournament, was given to Homer although Milroy did not concede a defeat by Homer. Since the tournament was on their floor, the Milroy players felt it would be courtesy on their part to give Homer the ball.

WHAT-YOU-MAY COLUMN

Macaroni

Macaroni is a thing we have always wondered about.

We know, in a general way, that it is sent out from factories in boxes, looking very naked and white; and that it comes to the table wearing cheese.

Aside from that, macaroni is as much of a mystery to us as what the man says who goes past the house yelling for old clothes.

We have always wondered about the holes in macaroni. Are they set up in rows and the macaroni wrapped around them? Or are they bored, while the young macaroni is still unable to defend itself?

Also, what is macaroni made of? There's rubber, of course. We know that. But what else? We have been letting macaroni slither down our throat off and on now for twenty-seven years; and yet if some stern faced scientist should suddenly stop us in the middle of a four-inch piece and ask us if we knew what we were swallowing, we could only answer: "Macaroni."

This is wrong. How long must the world go on without knowing more about its macaroni?

STIMULUS FOR A NEW LIBRARY

Rapidly Increasing Patronage,
Shown by Report, Renews Talk of More Commodious Building

NEW MAGAZINES ARE ADDED

Librarians Disclose That Over Hundred Persons a Day Take Books From Library

An average of over a hundred persons take books from the public library here every day, is the report of the librarians, Miss Mary Sleeth and Miss Edith Wilk. During last week, the average went as high as 112 persons daily patronizing the library. Aside from this, no record is kept of the great number of persons who daily read the magazines in the library.

This year the list of magazines has been augmented by a number of new ones, particularly adapted to the business men; in fact, men in every line of work and of varied interests. Although the list is quite complete, a number of local people after reading their magazines, which are not on the subscription list of the library, donate them for use. There are greatly appreciated as are the books which are being given to the library frequently.

The news books that are being purchased regularly cater to the readers who manifest particular interest in one line of work. A number of the new books have been recommended and commented upon by Miss Donnay, Prof. Jenkins and other well-informed literary lecturers who appear here. The most valuable asset to the library in the past few months are the twelve volumes by Burbank, containing facts about plant life and excellent illustrations. The library is open to the public from 10 until 5 o'clock daily and until 8 o'clock on Saturday.

The apparent appreciation of the library has added a new stimulus to the talk for a library building, to accommodate the patronage which is outgrowing the present location. The success of the buildings in towns much larger than this has proved that the project would be successful.

At present the following periodicals are on the subscription list of the library for the use of the public: American City, American Magazine, Atlantic Monthly, Bookman, Boy's Life, Century Magazine, Educational Review, Everybody's Magazine, Forum, Good Housekeeping, Harper's Magazine, House and Garden, Illustrated World, Illustrated London News, Independent, Ladies Home Journal, Literary Digest, Little Folks, McClure's Magazine, Modern Priscilla, Outlook, Popular Mechanics, Saint Nicholas, Saturday Evening Post, Scientific American, Something to Do, Vogue, Youth's Companion, Country Gentleman, Recreation, John Martin's Boy, System, Factory and Christian Science Monitor.

Rural route carriers reported yesterday that they had difficulty getting over their routes due to the condition of the roads. Most of the carriers were late on their schedules because no time could be made on the heavy roads.

The fact that Rush county has mile after mile of improved highway made no difference as the freezing and thawing process affected all roads alike. Most of the farmers realize the condition of the roads and as a result there has been less hauling of all kinds.

Changes Coming In 1917==
Be Ready!

The business man well entrenched in domestic trade, the business man with a growing circle of customers, need not worry about his future for 1917.

The business man who has been fooling himself because he has been taking in more dollars, but in reality selling fewer customers may have a sudden awakening.

It is the number of customers that will count for stability when readjustment comes.

This applies to every form of business.

It applies especially to manufacturers selling to consumers through dealers. These men should be entrenching themselves with more customers, more dealers and more enthusiastic dealers.

They should be extending their outposts of newspaper advertising. They should be digging in as never before.

SOCIETY

Social Calendar

Thursday

Pirate Bridge Club, with Mrs. O. M. Dale at 424 North Main street, in the afternoon.

Ladies Aid society of the St. Mary's Catholic church, with Mrs. Elva Osborne at #12 North Harrison street, in the afternoon. Assisting hostess, Mrs. Bert Moormann Card Club, with Miss Helen Scudder at 402 West Second street in the afternoon.

Country Club, with Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Warner at country home, in the evening.

Willing Workers class of the St. Paul's M. E. Sunday school, with Mrs. Ada LaFarra at 326 West Second street, in the afternoon.

Harmony Club with Mr. and Mrs. Will Trennepohl at 220 Buena Vista Avenue, in the evening.

Thursday Afternoon Card Club, with Miss Grace Buell at country home east of the city, in the afternoon.

Women's Missionary society of United Presbyterian church of Glenwood, with Mrs. A. P. Reynolds of Glenwood, in the afternoon.

D. T. Club, with Mrs. Knowles Casady at 224 West Ninth street, in the afternoon.

Lurline council of Pocahontas at Red Men hall, in the evening.

The Pirate Bridge Club, which was to have met with Mrs. Will Bliss tomorrow afternoon, will be entertained instead by Mrs. O. M. Dale at her home in North Main street.

In entertaining the members of her card club yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Albert Capp was hostess to a few extra guests, making three tables in play during the pleasant afternoon at her country home south of the city. A delicious luncheon was served following the Bridge games.

About forty members of the Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul's M. E. church were the guests of Mrs. Horatio Havens and Mrs. Walter Niles at the home of Mrs. Havens in North Harrison street yesterday afternoon. During the business session, plans were discussed for holding a rummage sale in the near future. A social hour followed while beautiful music was played on the Victrola and dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. M. S. Hobbs of Salem, Ind., was a guest.

At the meeting of the Shakespeare Club held with Mrs. Glenn Thomas last evening at the home of Mrs. Jane Kincaid in North Morgan street, a very interesting program was given on Thomas Hardy. The book review of the program was given by Miss Kate Dennis who told the story of "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," perhaps Hardy's best known book. She dealt with it in a very comprehensive and most interesting manner, laying stress upon the character of Tess, and the simplicity in her motives. Miss Frances Frazee read a paper on the life and works of Hardy, speaking of his love for nature illustrated in his books and the effect of his early architectural experience upon his style. Miss Nelle Baldwin dealt with the characteristics and policy of Hardy, the stern realist.

During the social period which followed the program, music was played on the Victrola and a dainty reception was served to the eighteen guests including practically all of the club members.

Prof. Jenkins will speak on "Thomas Hardy, the Ironist" before the members of the club on February 13th. The next regular meeting will have for hostesses, Mrs. John Kiplinger, Mrs. Will Coleman, and Miss Henrietta Coleman. Assisting hostesses last evening were the Misses Edith Wilk and Frances Frazee.

A group of congenial friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Tittsworth in North Main street last evening for a pitch-in supper and social good time together. After the service of the elegant meal, the evening was pleasantly spent by Mr. and Mrs. G. P. McCarty, Miss Jennie Madden, Mrs. L. C. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Zimmer and Prof. and Mrs. S. F. Stewart.

Several new members were voted into the B. N. club at their last meeting held Monday evening at the home of Miss Ethel Oakley. The newly elected members are the Misses Pauline Gosnell, Maymie Kuntz, Sarah Whitesides and Sylvia Lakin. Several other matters were brought up during the business meeting, which preceded a pleasant social time. Pink and white, the club colors, were used in the pretty decorations, of carnations and in the dainty luncheon served by the hostess. Six members of the club were present. Miss Pauline Gessler will entertain the club in two weeks.

WANT MONEY FOR PERRY MEMORIAL

Indiana Legislature Asked to Appropriate Toward Fund to Pay For Tablet.

ORIGINALLY ASKED IN 1908

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The Indiana legislature was today asked to make an appropriation toward the Perry memorial fund. The request was presented at a conference between Gov. Goodrich, members of the ways and means committee of the house and members of the memorial commission.

The members of the memorial commission who attended the conference were Col. McKenzie R. Todd of Frankfort, Ky.; Gen. J. Warren Keifer, Springfield, O., and Webster P. Huntington of Columbus, O.

In 1908 all states bordering on the Great Lakes were asked by the Ohio legislature to contribute to a Perry Memorial fund. All states responded except Indiana and Minnesota. The states held Centennial celebrations and erected a monument to Perry, near Put-in-Bay, O., overlooking the scene of the famous battle on Lake Erie. A bronze tablet to Gen. William Henry Harrison was placed in the memorial.

The memorial has been completed except for a few details and Indiana's appropriation is asked to enable the commission to finish its work.

Following their conference with the Indiana legislators, the commission members left for Minnesota where they will make a similar request of the Gopher legislature.

RECIPES

Even though at this season of the year, there are not a great number of nutritious vegetables to choose from, this difficulty is partially overcome by the various ways of arranging them in different and tasty dishes. A few suggestions follow for the more common vegetables.

Creole Sweet Potatoes

The potatoes should be washed and boiled with the skins on until they are nearly done and then peeled. They should be sliced lengthwise, not too thin, and fried in butter and then sprinkled with brown sugar, maple sugar, shaved thin, or molasses. They can be cooked sometime before they are needed and kept in a warming oven. It is not the ingredients used in the creole preparation of sweet potatoes so much as the careful cooking that makes them famous.

Cauliflower

Remove the leaves from one head of cauliflower, place in sauce-pan stem end down, cover with boiling water, add one teaspoonful of salt and boil, uncovered, thirty-five minutes. Drain, place in tureen and cover with sauce.

Sauce—Put one tablespoonful of butter into saucepan; when melted add one tablespoonful of flour; mix well and add a cup of cold milk slowly, stirring until smooth and creamy; then add the juice of half a lemon.

Potato Puffs

Eight medium sized potatoes, one teaspoonful of salt, a dash of white pepper, two teaspoonfuls of finely cut parsley and two teaspoonfuls of butter. Wash and boil the potatoes twenty minutes. Drain when cool, skin and mash; add the salt, pepper, parsley and one teaspoonful of butter; mix well and beat until light. The other teaspoonful of butter you may use to brush the small pans in which the puffs are baked, or you may brush a bake pan and bake all in one large puff. This amount makes six large individual puffs or one small bake pan.

Sweet Potato Pudding

To a large sweet potato weighing two pounds, take half pound sugar, half pound butter, one gill sweet cream, one gill cider or fruit juice, one grated nutmeg, a little lemon peel, four eggs. Boil potato till done, and mash fine; while hot, add sugar and butter. Line tin plates with puff paste and put in mixture. Bake in moderate but regularly heated oven. When the puddings are drawn from the fire cover with thinly sliced bits of preserved citron or quince marmalade. Strew the top thickly with granulated sugar and serve with the addition of a glass of rich milk for each person at the table.

Curried Tomatoes

Slice tomatoes very thickly, place in a baking dish—not buttered—and then pour over them a sauce made as follows: Two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of curry, two teaspoonfuls of salt, pepper.

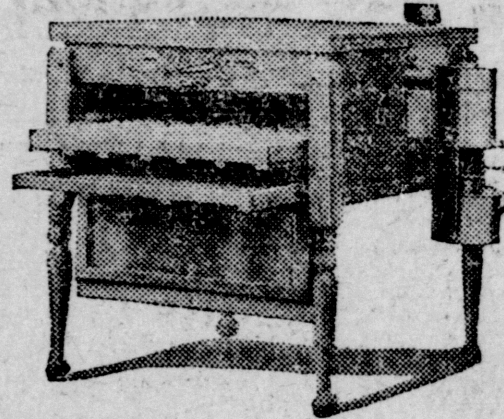

The butter and flour must be mixed thoroughly, then the milk added and other seasonings. The liquid is poured over the tomatoes and baked until they are tender.

The ordinary "scalloped tomatoes" with breadcrumb foundation can be varied by using some of the other combinations—rice, spaghetti, macaroni, mashed chestnuts, corn scraped from the cob and other vegetables.

Remove all dust from your patent-leather shoes with a damp cloth. As soon as dry, rub two drops of castor oil or vaseline into the tops, and polish with a woolen cloth. This prevents cracking.

DRY BILL COMES UP TOMORROW

Fate of State Wide Prohibition Measure Will Likely be Decided at That Time

COMES UP FOR THIRD READING

Thousand of Workers are Preparing to Invade Indianapolis to Support Bill

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The fate of Indiana's saloons, as far as the present legislature is concerned, will probably be decided at tomorrow's session of the upper house of the legislature.

According to present indications, the Wright Prohibition bill, which has already passed the house, will come up for third reading and a vote in the senate tomorrow.

Thousands of prohibition workers from all parts of the state are preparing to come to Indianapolis tomorrow for a great demonstration when the prohibition measure comes up for final action. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the anti-saloon league, predicted today that there would be 500,000 prohibition workers in the city tomorrow.

The fate of the measure was still uncertain today, with both sides claiming victory. About the only thing certain regarding the action which the senate will take is that it will be close.

Several senators have refused to make known what stand they will take until their vote is cast. The dries are practically certain of twenty-four and the wets of at least twenty-one. This leaves four in the doubtful column.

One thing which was considered significant today, however, was the fact that the dry workers are asking immediate action on the prohibition bill, despite the fact that a new senator will be elected from LaGrange, Noble and Steuben counties—a dry district—next week, to succeed the late Senator Greene. It is stated that the prohibitionists would not desire the senate to act on the bill until after the new senator is elected, if they were not confident that they would be victorious without the aid of the legislator to be elected to succeed Greene.

SANITATION AS A PREVENTATIVE

Physician Shows How it Lessens Danger of Tuberculosis Among Factory Workers

CONVENTION ENDS TONIGHT

(By United Press.) South Bend, Ind., Jan. 31.—Dr. Harry Smock, chief surgeon for the Sears Roebuck company, spoke before the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis in session here today on prevention of tuberculosis in industries. He explained how increased sanitation, better ventilation and medical care for employees served to lessen the danger of tuberculosis.

Miss Gwynedd Webster of Goshen spoke on the "Extension of Community Nursing." She told of the great work which is being done by public nurses toward preventing spread of the White Plague.

George E. O'Brien, South Bend, President of the board of Healthwin hospital; Dr. Eric Cull, director of the Ft. Recovery hospital, Ft. Wayne, E. B. Wetherow, superintendent of Miami county schools; Miss Mary Ogilvie, Evansville and Edwin L. Rickert, superintendent of Connersville schools, spoke at this afternoon's session.

The convention will close with a banquet tonight.

PERPETUATE COMMISSION

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Representative McClaskey is preparing a bill which he will introduce in the house shortly to perpetuate the Indiana Centennial Historical commission. The bill will provide that the commission consist of three members, instead of nine as at present, to serve without compensation. An appropriation of $6,000 a year would be made to carry on the work of the commission.

Obituary.

The funeral services of Mary Ann Alger were held at her late residence on North Morgan street, Rushville, Ind., Tuesday, Jan. 30th, 1917. Rev. W. M. Whitsitt, officiated, Homer Trusler very beautifully sang, "Rock of Ages," and Jesus Lover of My Soul."

A large number of floral tributes were given by son, daughter and husband granddaughter and husband and many beautiful flowers from friends and neighbors.

Mary Ann Griffin was born, November 29th, 1826 in Union county, Penn. When two years of age her parents moved to Ohio and then to Indiana. On July 2d, 1845. She was married to Josiah Conklin Alger. They resided east of Rushville for a number of years, and were residents of Rushville thirty-three years. Had Mr. and Mrs. Alger lived until the 2nd day of July, they would have been married seventy-two years.

Mr. Alger passed away Dec. 27th, 1912, at the age of 89 years.

Mrs. Alger was a member of the Methodist church. She was taken to her bed on Jan. 1st and came to the end very peacefully on Sunday morning, Jan. 28th, 1917 at 9:45 o'clock.

She is survived by two children Mrs. L. H. Doughty and Charles H. Alger and one grand-daughter, Mrs. John M. Depweg.

Time goes on and on and each day, one by one we slip away.

Mrs. Alger had a poem she very much liked.

"When I go home" A little while and then the summer day—
"When I go home" Beyond the gloom of more and for I see

The welcome warm of those who wait for me

Work ceases not in sunshine or in shower.

"Till I go Home."

And when the night wind moans across the wood

I feel no dread of dark nor chill of cold.

All will be well and happiness.

"When I go home."

There will be light at even tide for me.

The light that never was on land or sea.

"When I go Home."

HOOSIER BRIEFS.

Terre Haute—Harry D. Dill appeared at the courthouse to procure a marriage license. When he learned the amount the license cost, he was forced to go out and "touch" a friend for the amount necessary.

Gary—Gary's first life insurance company is being formed. It will be known as the Gary National Life Insurance Company.

Brazil—The Otter Creek Coal Company here is mining both block and bituminous coal, and union officials are unable to decide whether the workers should come under the jurisdiction of the bituminous or block miners union.

Hartford City—The Main street ward school building of Montpelier has been condemned by the state board of health and cannot be used for school purposes after next June.

Evansville—Vanderburgh county's road school opened at the court house today.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold. Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

PUBLIC SALE OF LIVE STOCK

The undersigned will sell at Public Sale at the Cullen farm, one and one-mile west of Rushville, on

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 14th, 1917

the following described live stock

12 Draft Mares 12

These are a useful lot with plenty of size, bone and substance, four to eight years old, sorrels, bays, browns, blacks and grays. Some good pairs among them. Ready any day for the plow. Some in foal.

AVAIL YOURSELF OF THIS OPPORTUNITY

30 Head of Cattle 30
TWELVE SHORTHORN COWS AND HEIFERS

This is an exceptionally good bunch, all bred to Registered bull, some with calves at side. A lot of first class milkers.

Five Polled Shorthorn bulls, almost ready for service, an extra fine bunch. Also a few heifer calves. One coming two-year-old steer, a good one. The red, white and roans were never more popular. Buy a few good ones.

SIX HEAD OF SELECT JERSEY COWS

to be fresh soon or calves at side. This is a chance for a good butter cow.

85 Head of Hogs 85
60 — DUROC SOWS — 60

This, I think, is one of the best and most uniform offerings I have ever presented to the public and certainly there was never a more opportune time to invest in a good brood sow. They are strictly pure-bred, out of mature sows and boars and bred to boars out of $500 and $1000 sires, for March and April farrow. They have had plenty of exercise, are strong and vigorous and should prove a profitable investment at almost any price. Come, take a few good ones home with you.

ONE YEARLING BOAR. TWO SPRING BOARS.
TWENTY-FIVE CHOICE FEEDERS

20 Shropshire Ewes 20
Sired by an Imported Ram

Their dams and grand-dams for several generations are also by Imported sires. One to four years old, bred to Registered Ram. Sheep and wool are so high in the market I hesitated to make this offering, but hope the opportunity to get a few such ewes will be appreciated.

Sale to be held entirely under cover at the Cullen farm, beginning at 10:00 a. m. sharp, Wednesday, February 14, 1917.

COME RAIN OR SHINE, YOU WILL BE MADE COMFORTABLE

TERMS—A credit until Dec. 25, 1917, will be given on all sums of $20 or over, purchaser giving note with approved security. 5% off for cash. No property to be removed until settled for.

The Anker Holth Cream Separator

is the only Self Balancing Separator on the market. And the bowl is guaranteed to stay in balance the life of the machine. The Anker Holth skims the cleanest and is the easiest to keep clean and can be washed in one half the time you can wash any other separator. Every user of an Anker Holth remarks—HOW EASY it turns. This fact is especially noticeable to those who have operated other separators. A child can operate an Anker Holth with ease. The self oiling system—has no oil holes no feed cups—it simply runs in a bath of oil, and every two or three months change the oil by removing a set screw.

The Anker Holth contains fewer mechanical parts than any other separator made. And the bowl being self draining makes it non freezing in cold weather. There is no number on the disk and they are all interchangeable—they do not have to be kept on a stringer to wash them.

Nothing but the highest grade of steel and the best phosphar bronze and the most durable tinware goes into the construction of the Anker Holth.

The Anker Holth Cream Separator is the best Separator on the market today for Efficiency, Simplicity, Sanitation, Satisfaction and Durability

DR. LITTELL GOES ON TRIAL

Former Minister Faces Charge of Contributing to Delinquency

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Joseph A. Littell, lecturer and former minister, went on trial today in Juvenile court on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of Helen Steinhauer, 16 years old. The girl was arrested in company with several colored women, in a raid on a resort. Littell was in court when the girl's case came up for trial and he expressed a deep interest in the child's welfare.

Judge Lahr granted the man's request that he be appointed her adviser, with the provision that she remain the ward of the court. The girl told a probation officer that Littell took her home and in the absence of his family, gave her wine.

VISITORS TO NEW YORK.

They Crowd the Natives Off Broadway and Into the Side Streets.

It has often been remarked by visitors from Denver and other scientific investigators that New York's Broadway is apparently patronized by people from all over the world except the native residents of New York. And it is probably true that Seattle knows its way about the Kialto at least as well as does East Seventy-second street, and the cabarets along the great white way see more money from Des Moines than from Amsterdam avenue.

The fact of the matter is that the out of town visitor, descending upon the metropolis trained to the minute, with the express intention and determination of taking in Broadway, succeeds largely in crowding the native off the walk.

Hence it has come about that other New York streets which never attain more than a local fame have become pleasure grounds for the real New Yorker, who leaves the streets and the restaurants of world reputation to the hordes of the invader. Such a street, for instance, is One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, often called by its frequenters the "uptown Broadway." One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street lies in the apartment house section, about in the middle of the long, narrow city that is modern New York. From here to the Battery is a long ride on the express trains, and from here to the limits of New York, up beyond the Bronx, is a longer ride by local. The dweller in this section rarely takes either of these rides. He goes down to the office in the morning and in the evening returns to his own little side street. If he craves amusement he strolls down One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street—New York Letter in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Largo Power Easily Controlled. In some cases a 1,000 ton or 1,500 ton press may be controlled by one finger upon the clutch lever, so that the ram will rise one-eighth of an inch or so at a time. More often, however, a press is set so that the ram will always stop at the top of its stroke, and the control of this condition is usually made by a foot treadle, although sometimes with a handle also or with a handle alone. Generally such presses are arranged for continuous running. This is often practicable with long, slow strokes.—Oberlin Smith in Engineering Magazine.

A Common Cause of Failure. "What happened to Flivver? He was always full of ambition and just about to accomplish great things, but somehow he has failed to achieve anything in particular." "Oh, he hitched his wagon to a star and forgot to fasten the rear end gate."—Kansas City Star.

All Depends. "What shall I charge for fixing up whiskers?" "All depends," answered the boss barber. "Some I give a bit of a clip for nothing. Others you want to charge the same rates a laundry gets for lace curtains."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Why It Worried Him. "What are you looking so glum about, old man?" "Somebody stole Dawson's umbrella." "But why should that worry you?" "It was stolen from me."

Today's Legislative Oddity

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The committee on natural resources of the senate is still considering the petition presented by Mrs. Anna Holtke Lee asking the legislature to enact a law to prohibit women from wearing corsets. The bill was given to the Natural resource committee after it was taken out of hands of a special committee consisting of Senators Haggerty, Mercer and Erskine.

CANNOT GIVE NAMES.

Almost every day there are want ads in The Daily Republican which give an initial or number as the address. To answer these kind of advertisements it is necessary to drop a note or card addressed to the initial or number given in care of The Daily Republican. It will be useless to call up the office and ask who inserted the ad. Many times the name of the advertiser is not known and even if it were, would not be given. The advertiser who uses this method undoubtedly prefers not to have his name known and The Daily Republican will not give it.

DEATH OF GREGORY RECALLS VERY BITTER CONVENTION

italist, and politician, who lives in Washington, but whose voting residence has always been Muncie, was chosen chairman of the convention, not, however, without opposition on the part of the Gregory and Forkner forces, who believed Mr. Heath was very friendly to, and favored the nomination of Henry U. Johnson.

The interests of Mr. Johnson, who had the largest number of delegates in the convention, and whose nomination seemed probable from the first, were directed by Dick Jackson of Richmond, a large man, with a loud and raucous voice, who assumed an attitude of aggressiveness that at once injected into the convention proceedings, a feeling of bitterness, which did not make for party harmony.

John K. Gowdy, then county auditor, headed the Rush county delegation, which remained loyal, and continued to vote for Judge Cullen until the Henry and Delaware county delegations finally broke, some of them going to Johnson, insuring his nomination.

Ralph S. Gregory's forces were led by George F. McCullough, of Muncie, who, because of a personal resemblance, and his brilliant oratory, was known as the Robert G. Ingersoll of the district. Later Mr. McCullough became one of the leading traction promoters in Indiana; he was also promoter of, and established the Star League of Newspapers, with papers at Indianapolis, Terre Haute, and Muncie, under one management. The million dollars that Mr. McCullough made in the traction business, was lost in the newspaper enterprise, and his ambition to wield a powerful influence in Indiana politics, through a syndicate of republican newspapers, was never realized. In 1897, when John K. Gowdy was appointed Consul General to Paris, and resigned as chairman of the republican state committee, Mr. McCullough was elected to succeed him. Later the Star League passed into other hands, and Mr. McCullough went to New York to live, where he died a few years ago.

After the Newcastle convention was organized with Perry S. Heath as chairman, the alternate delegate from his precinct was seated in the Delaware county delegation. When the entire vote of the county was cast for Mr. Gregory, under the unit rule, the alternate questioned the accuracy of the vote. Mr. McCullough, who had been instructed to cast the vote for his candidate, claimed that Mr. Heath, the delegate was present, and that the alternate was occupying a seat in the delegation by courtesy, and since the vote was challenged, the delegate, and not the alternate, should vote when the delegation was polled. Mr. Heath occupying the chair, in a moment of dramatic silence, cast his vote for Mr. Gregory, and there was nothing in his attitude as presiding officer, during the proceedings of the convention to indicate that he was unfriendly to the candidacy of his fellow townsman.

It was known to Judge Forkner's friends that Henry U. Johnson's representatives had gone into Henry county and secured the election of two delegates, whose votes could be depended upon at any time they were required. Forkner was considered the most formidable candidate against Johnson, but with a divided delegation from his own county, his chances for the nomination seemed doubtful. A meeting of the Forkner delegates was held on the morning of, and previous to the convention at which the question of removing two delegates, was discussed, but the delegates whose loyalty was questioned, declared their willingness to allow the vote of the county to be cast as a unit and they were permitted to participate in the convention.

After balloting for several hours without a nomination, the accuracy of the vote of Henry county was challenged, and on being polled, two delegates, Mr. Lemon and Mr. Crull, from the Knightstown district, cast their votes for Henry U. Johnson. This break, the first in the vote of any of the delegations from a county having a candidate, caused intense excitement. On the next ballot the Delaware county delegation also divided its vote between Gregory and Johnson. This was followed by changes in the vote of counties having no candidates, resulting in the nomination of Henry U. Johnson.

Judge Forkner moved that the nomination be made unanimous, humorously referring to the fact that he seemed to have too much Lemonate and too many Crulls in his delegation. The motion was seconded by Judge Cullen, and then followed an embarrassing silence, while the convention waited for Mr. Gregory to join in making the nomination unanimous. But he refused, and left the convention hall denouncing in bitter terms what he designated his betrayal by his county. Mr. Gregory refused to affiliate with the republican party during that campaign. It is reported that he later voted the populist ticket, and finally became identified with the democratic party. He was serving as city judge of Muncie, as a democrat, at the time of his death.

Henry U. Johnson, was elected to congress for several terms. Later the district was changed, Randolph and Delaware being added to the Eighth, and other counties included in the Sixth. In the second congressional convention held in the district after the change, James E. Watson was nominated to succeed Mr. Johnson. After his defeat, Johnson voted the democratic ticket and used his tremendous energies to defeat the party that had honored him.

In 1908, Mr. Watson declined to be a candidate for congress, to accept the republican nomination for Governor. Since that the Sixth district, which for many years was regarded as an impregnable stronghold, has been represented by Finley Gray of Connorsville, a democrat, who was defeated in the last election by Judge Daniel W. Comstock of Richmond, which will, after March 4, next, give the district a republican representative.

STORY SEQUEL
TO KIDNAPPINGTale of How Regina Patton Was Stolen by Her Father at Arlington Years Ago Like Fiction

AT LAST FOUND BY MOTHER

Living in Los Angeles for Decade
Among Strangers, Girl is Loca-
ter by Accident

The kidnapping of little Regina Patton, then nine years old, by her own father ten years ago while she was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Clell McDaniel, of Arlington, has a sequel in the unexpected finding of the girl by her mother, Mrs. John Ludlow of Indianapolis, a sister of Mrs. McDaniel.

For a decade Mrs. Ludlow has been endeavoring to locate her lost daughter. Yesterday she read an article in the Indianapolis Star from Los Angeles, Cal., which told of a girl by the same name as her daughter appealing to the police to find her relatives. A message was dispatched to the girl at once and now the home made happy by the accidental discovery of the long lost daughter, is being prepared for her homecoming.

The story appeared in the Indianapolis Star today and Mrs. McDaniel, over the telephone this morning, confirmed it in every detail. Mrs. McDaniel said that Regina had been sent on an errand and never returned. No accurate account of the disappearance of the child was ever obtained by the mother. Some Arlington people were found who said a man stopped the little girl on the street, placed her in a vehicle and drove away.

From that day to this Mrs. Ludlow has continued the fruitless search. She was an invalid because of the constant worry about her daughter. When she read the article yesterday, Mrs. Ludlow fainted and relatives had to send a message for her to Los Angeles telling the girl to come home. She was also suffering from an injury to her leg caused by falling several days ago.

The child was so young when kidnapped at Arlington that she did not remember the names of all her relatives and did not know her own first name. Her nickname was "Reo," which she gave in the letter received in Indianapolis. Some of the relatives whose names the girl gave are dead.

Mrs. Ludlow was divorced from her first husband, William Patton, a railroad man, twelve years ago, and she was given the custody of the only daughter. The mystery of why the girl's father should kidnap her and take her to a distant city among strangers has not been explained. She never heard from her father after he left her in Los Angeles. Mrs. Ludlow believes that Patton was killed after taking the child.

Immediately after the kidnapping a decade ago, Mrs. Ludlow sought the aid of the police and employed a detective agency, but without avail. She also inserted newspaper advertisements from time to time.

EXONERATES THE CONNOLYS

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Jan. 31.—Secretary Lansing's interpretation of President Wilson's peace message and not the "leak" to Wall street was what killed the market, E. F. Hutton, stock broker, told the house committee probers today.

He held that the kick originating in the house of F. A. Connolly and company, of which President Wilson's brother-in-law is a member, was not responsible for the break.

If Connolly had real inside information, they failed to use it to advantage, it developed today, for their account showed losses of $40,000 in trading during the "leak" period. Nor was the firm short on selling during that time.

The committee has had all the so-called "leak" messages of the Hutton house.

George Ellis, member of the Hutton firm, was today summoned to return from Georgia to testify on the Hutton "leak" message before the committee.

for Places on G. O. P. Ticket

ONE OTHER ALREADY IN RACE

Chase Mauzy and R. F. Scudder today declared their intentions of being candidates for councilmen-at-large on the republican ticket. Both men will seek re-election on their records, which is believed to entitle them to another term. Mr. Scudder was elected at the last city election and Mr. Mauzy was elected by the council to fill an unexpired term. Both councilmen have devoted much of their time to the affairs of the city and are asking the nomination and re-election as business men who have the best interests of the city in mind.

The republican field is rapidly filling. Yesterday A. P. Wagoner announced his candidacy for councilman from the Third ward. There are three candidates for clerk and two candidates for mayor.

Death of Ralph S. Gregory
Recalls One of the Bitterest
Conventions Ever Held in 6th

The death of Ralph S. Gregory, judge of the city court of Muncie, recently, recalls one of the most bitterly contested and exciting congressional nominating conventions ever held in eastern Indiana.

When Thomas M. Browne of Winchester, who represented the old Sixth (Burnt) district in congress for many years, died in 1890, there were a number of aspirants to succeed him. Tom Browne, as he was familiarly known, was a man of scholarly attainments, and an orator of unusual ability. He could quote Shakespeare as readily as he could call the names of his constituents, discuss agriculture with the farmers intelligently, present the arguments of labor organizations logically, preach protection effectively, and appeal to the patriotism of the people eloquently, handling all the various issues involved in a political campaign with wonderful skill, and unusual facility. A large man, with a lionine head, and a tremendous shock of hair, streaked with gray, he was a commanding figure on or off the platform. Senator James E. Watson, who is a cousin of Tom Browne, resembles him in many respects, especially in the fervent style and dramatic power of his oratory.

The old Sixth District was then composed of the counties of Randolph, Delaware, Henry, Wayne, Union, Fayette and Rush.

The convention was held in Newcastle, and the candidates were Henry U. Johnson of Richmond, Judge Mark E. Forkner of Newcastle, Judge W. A. Cullen of Rushville, and Ralph S. Gregory of Muncie. The several candidates had the delegations from their respective home counties, but it was known after their election that some of the delegates from Henry county were not really loyal to Judge Forkner, and that Mr. Gregory had opposition in the Delaware county delegation, although under the unit rule, the solid vote of these counties were cast for their respective candidates.

MEN PICKED TO RUN IN PRIMARYDemocratic Caucus Results in Candidates for Mayor, City Treasurer and 3 for Council

NO OPPOSITION IS LIKELY

John D. Megee Allows His Name to go Before Primary for Mayor
—Two Are Out for Clerk

With the time limit for filing declarations of candidacy drawing to a close, the political pot has begun to boil. To get their names on the ballots for the primary election to be held March 6 the candidates must file their declarations by next Monday. This is the final day under the law as they must be filed 30 days before the primary.

The meeting of the democratic organization last night turned out to be more in the nature of a convention. Judge John D. Megee was decided on as the candidate for mayor. It is presumed there were sufficient demands for him to make the race as he stated that he would not run simply for the sake of the office but to satisfy his friends who were urging him to enter the race. It is well understood that there will be no opposition to Judge Megee in the democratic camp.

With the head of the ticket selected the work of picking the candidates for councilmen was then started. Walter Thomas and John Crawley were picked as the candidates for councilmen-at-large. Thomas was a candidate for councilman, at the last city election, from the First ward. When the caucus decided that Morris W. Winslip was the man to run from the First ward. The names of the other candidates for councilmen were not given for publication.

It is understood that the organization has picked the men to run for councilmen in the other wards but owing to the fact that the consent of the candidates must first be secured, the list was not completed today.

Knowles Casady is the democratic candidate for city treasurer. He will likely have no opposition for the nomination. The only fight promised at the primary is for city clerk. There are two candidates, Orza Farthing and Wilbur Stevens.

The meeting last night was attended by a large crowd.

COUNTY ROADS

Hard and Tedious

HAL GREEN ISSUES WARNING

Says That Heavy Hauling Must
Cease or Prosecutions Will
Follow

The roads of Rush county are in a fearful condition, absolutely without bottoms and making traffic hard and tedious. The warm weather, with a freeze every night and a thaw during the day, has made the roads regular mud holes, a thing that usually happens about this time of the year. Road Superintendent Hal Green issued a warning today against heavy hauling and declared that prosecutions would follow if the roads were used while in this condition.

Mr. Green stated that the condition of the roads was due largely to the fact that automobile travel has not ceased and the heavy machines simply tear the roads to pieces. One of the worst examples in the entire county is the Glenwood pike. At Mauzy the road was in such shape that an automobile could not get through. Mr. Green went to Mauzy this morning and intended to prevent autos from traveling the road of this were possible.

For about one-quarter of a mile along the Jonathan Wilson farm the road is absolutely impassible. As many as four automobiles at one time were stuck in the mud there yesterday. One farmer near there worked until eleven o'clock last night to get an auto out of the mire. Mr. Green announced that this section of the road would be ditched tomorrow in an effort to get rid of the water that stands at both sides of the highway.

Mr. Green also announced that every assistant road superintendent in the county was out today dragging the roads. By remaining off the roads tomorrow with the heavy machines, they should soon be in first class condition.

The same condition exists throughout the county only not so bad as on the Glenwood pike. This is one of the heaviest traveled highways in the county and it is practically cut to pieces. Mr. Green stated that in his opinion the road would settle in a few days if the warm weather continued. The problem would be solved with a

sion Saturday

THE PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

The farmers and teachers institutes of three townships will combine in the annual institute to be held in the Fairview school building on Saturday. The principal speakers for the all day session are to be C. M. McConnell of Lafayette and Mrs. Orme of Southport. The program will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A basket dinner will be served in the school building at noon and the entire communities of Union and Washington townships in this county and Fairview in Fayette are co-operating in making the institute a success.

The agriculture and domestic science classes of the school will have exhibits of their work, the former conducting a corn show. Both of the speakers for the institute are said to be exceptionally well informed on their line of work. The detailed program follows:

Ten o'clock, address by Mr. McConnell on "Producing a Corn Crop;" 11 o'clock, talk by Mrs. Orme on "The Farm Home, its Health, Comfort and Convenience;" 2 o'clock, address by Mr. McConnell on "Community Organization;" 3 o'clock "The Twentieth Century Problem," by Mrs. Orme. Miss Mary Hinchman will give several readings and there will be music by the high school orchestra at the afternoon session.

EPIDEMIC LATE IN ARRIVING

An epidemic of measles has forced the Homer school to close. The school closed yesterday for a period of two weeks and at the end of this time if the epidemic has not abated the vacation will be extended.

In all there are about forty cases of measles. It was stated today that the entire school consisting of 145 pupils had been exposed to the disease. The high school, composed of forty pupils, is included. On Monday of this week twenty pupils were absent from one room and the cases became so numerous that it was useless to attempt to hold school.

The epidemic is late in hitting Homer. Almost every school in the county was affected this winter and many closed.

The degree team of the local order of Odd Fellows conferred the degree upon several candidates at Carthage last evening.

COMMITTEE REPORTS FOR IT

Constitutional Bill Delayed After
Charges That an Attempt Was Being Made to Rush It(By United Press.)
BULLETIN.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The Wright prohibition bill will be made a matter of special business for two o'clock tomorrow afternoon when it will come up for passage, Lieut. Gov. Bush announced today.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—After charges were made in the senate today that an attempt was being made to rush the constitutional bill through the upper house of the legislature without giving the measure due consideration action on the bill was postponed until the afternoon.

The Wright prohibition bill was recommended for passage by the senate committee on rights and privileges. Thousands of prohibitionists were arriving in Indianapolis today to be on hands for the final action on the measure expected tomorrow. An attempt to amend the bill so that drug stores would be prohibited from selling intoxicating liquors is under consideration, it was learned today. Senator Chambers of Newcastle is believed to be backing the amendment.

The visiting committee appointed by Former Governor Ralston today made its recommendations for appropriations to the house. The committee recommended that the tax levy for the maintenance of Indiana university, Purdue university and the state normal school be raised to 20.7. It explained that salaries were practically doubled in 1916 as compared to 1913.

The committee asked that $259,900 be appropriated for the improvement of the village for epileptics behind the regular appropriation of $77,500. The specific appropriation is for the purchase of land and construction of additional cottages.

He sprang his first surprise by voting for the prohibition bill when he was supposed to be wet.

Vesey, who is chairman of the house committee considering woman's suffrage, was supposed to be opposed to the measure and announced early this week that the bill would not be reported out.

He Fort Wayne representative stated today, however, that he not only favored the measure but that he would make a speech for it if the bill reaches the floor of the house.

Charles Tindall, an attorney of Greenfield has filed suit in the Rush circuit court against Richard R. Harter, on an account, demanding $500. Tindall alleges that he was employed at Harter's attorney in a law suit and that the sum of $500 is still due him.

GOING ON WHEELS

From the Ancient Chariot to the Modern Motorcar.

EVOLUTION OF THE VEHICLE.

The Crude Carts Used in the Early Ages by the Romans Were Followed by Carriages—Then Came Covered Coaches With Doors and Windows.

From the forked limb of a tree to the automobile has the evolution of the vehicle expanded. For hundreds of years the chariot reigned supreme, and, bearing a fair resemblance to it even in this day, crude forms of carts on two wheels are to be seen in India, China, Ceylon, Mexico and other countries. In China centuries ago the monocyte was in great favor. This odd vehicle, much like the modern wheelbarrow, is still in general use in many parts of the country and is propelled by man power.

Among the two wheeled vehicles in popular use in the Asiatic world may be mentioned the "ekka," largely used in northern India, and the famed jirikisha of Japan. The Romans first established the use of carriages as private means of conveyance, and with them these vehicles attained a great variety of form as well as of ornamentation.

In all ages the employment of wheeled vehicles has depended largely upon the condition of the roads on which they were to be used, and the building of great highways, such as the Appian way by Claudius in 313 B. C., as well as many others, greatly facilitated the development of carriage traveling among the Romans. In Rome as well as in other large cities of the empire it became necessary to restrict travel in carriages to a few persons of high rank owing to the narrowness and crowded condition of the streets. For the same reason the transport of goods along the streets was forbidden between sunrise and sunset. For long journeys and to convey parties the "reda" and "carruca" appear to have been mostly used.

During the empire the carriage which appears in pictorial representations of public ceremonials is the "carpentum." It is very light, with two wheels, sometimes covered and generally drawn by two horses. If a carriage was drawn by four horses they were yoked abreast among the Greeks and Romans, not in pairs, as now. From the Roman "carruca" are traced the modern English name "carriage," the French "carrosse" and the Italian "carrozza."

The "sirpea" was a very ancient form of vehicle, the body of which was of osier basketwork. It originated with the Gauls, by whom it was named "benna," and was employed by them for the conveyance of persons and goods in times of peace and baggage and supplies in time of war.

On the introduction of the feudal system throughout Europe the use of carriages was for some time prohibited as tending to render the vassals less fit for military service. Men of all grades and professions rode on horses or mules. Horseback was the general mode of traveling, and hence the members of the council, who at the diet and on other occasions were employed as ambassadors, were called "ritineister." In this manner also great lords made their public entry into cities.

Covered carriages were known in the beginning of the fifteenth century, but their use was confined to ladies of the first rank, and it was accounted a reproach for men to ride in them. For a long time they were forbidden even to women, but by the end of the fifteenth century they were being employed by kings and princes in long journeys and later on state occasions.

The first time that ambassadors appeared in coaches on a public official occasion was at the imperial commission held at Erfurt in 1613. Soon after this coaches became common all over Germany, notwithstanding various orders and admonitions to deter vassals from using them.

Carriages seem to have been used to some extent at quite an early period in France, for there is still extant an ordinance of Philip the Fair, issued in 1294, by which citizens' wives are prohibited from using them. It appears, however, that about 1550 there were only three carriages in Paris—one belonging to the queen, another to Diana of Poitiers and the third to Rene de Laval, a very fat nobleman who was unable to ride on horseback.

The first coach in England was made in 1553 for the Earl of Rutland by Walter Rippon, who also made a coach in 1556 for Queen Mary and in 1564 a state coach for Queen Elizabeth. By the beginning of the seventeenth century the use of carriages and coaches had become so prevalent in England that in 1601 the attention of parliament was drawn to the subject, and a bill "to restrain the excessive use of coaches" was introduced, which, however, was rejected.

In regard to carriage construction, it would seem that glass windows or hinged and completed doors were unknown prior to 1650. Public carriages for hire, or hackney coaches, were introduced into London in 1625 and rapidly grew in popularity. Notwithstanding the opposition of the king and court, who thought they would ruin the roads, they grew to number over 300 by 1650. In Paris they were introduced during the minority of Louis XIV. by Nicholas Sauvage, who lived in the Rue St. Martin at the sign of St. Place, from which circumstance hackney carriages in Paris have since been called "saucres." By 1664 there were over 700 of these conveyances in London. Argument

11-YEAR OLD GIRL IS DEAD

Daughter of Lewis Bever, Formerly of New Salem, Expires

Eva Bever, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bever, died yesterday at their home in Muncie following an illness from leakage of the heart and tuberculosis. The Bever family formerly lived near New Salem and moved to Muncie only about one month ago. The little girl is survived by her parents and three sisters, Mrs. L. M. Harton, and the Misses Neta and Merle. The remains were brought to the home of Clarence Smith in North Arthur street this afternoon. The funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at the Orange Christian church and burial will take place in the Orange cemetery.

FUSSY AUNT SALLY.

Our Aunt Sally always has one or two more things to do at night before she can go to bed. We were at her home a few weeks ago, and all of us sat up until late. At about 11 o'clock Uncle Buckram gave a yawn, and in thirty minutes everybody was under the cover listening to the rain—everybody except Aunt Sally. She decided that while everything was quiet she would sew the buttons on the new trousers she was making for Buckram. When this was finished she started to bed, but she remembered that she hadn't set her yeast. She went back into the kitchen and worked for about twenty minutes, and then it seemed that she was through with everything for the night.

We were almost asleep when she brought in another quilt. She said it might turn cold during the night and that we could pull it up if we needed it. She went back to her room and stood perfectly still for a few seconds. Evidently she was trying to think of something else to do before going to bed, and she thought of it. She decided she had best sprinkle down her clothes so they would iron better next day. When this was finished she folded the rough dried pieces and put them away.

At last the house was dark. The rain was pouring down, and we turned over for a good sleep. After we turned, we were facing the barn, and we saw Aunt Sally out there with a lamp. She managed to keep the lamp dry, but in a few minutes it went out. A little later we heard her enter the house, and while feeling for a place to set the lamp she said: "I declare that fool hen hasn't any sense. I put her up in a dry place and she wouldn't stay there. She seems determined to drown, and I ought to let her do it, but I guess I'd better go back and see about her."—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Amusements

The Gem offers Carter DeHaven in the drama "Fame at Last" for the first picture tonight. The last is a drama "The Beautiful Temple at Ceyhen." Tomorrow Helen Holmes will be seen in the next chapter of "A Lass of the Lumberlands."

"A Million a Minute," the sensational five reel feature in which Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne are starred, is the attraction at the Princess tonight. It is a picturization made from the successful novel of the same name written by Hudson Douglas. There are many interesting scenes taken in and around New York, on shipboard and along Broadway and the cafe life and underworld of Paris are faithfully reproduced. The story is one of intrigue, romance, adventure and mystery, together with a comedy relief, which makes for the most satisfactory entertainment. Tomorrow the feature "His Wife's Good Name" will be shown.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

A DENTISTS FORMULA

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentanel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentanel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

A Lesson in Defense.

Since about all the national guardsmen have been recalled from the border, it is well that the people who are interested in the future welfare of their nation give pause and consider just what sort of defense this country would have with no more reserve army than the national guard. The lessons of the mobilization of the guard on the border have been viewed in many different ways. The mayor's committee on national defense of New York City think the mobilization proves conclusively that universal training under federal control is the only solution to the problem.

Following an inquiry that began soon after the call for state troops last June, the executive committee of the mayor's committee on national defense has issued its report upon the mobilization of the national guard. The report embodies the main substance of a mass of information both economic and military, gathered from both official and unofficial sources.

Giving the officers and enlisted men of the guard full credit for their enthusiasm and spirit of patriotic sacrifices, the report says; nevertheless, that the mobilization has proved universal training under a single federal control to be the only satisfactory solution of the nation's military problem. But inasmuch as the perfection of a scheme

ACID IN STOMACH

'SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we cruricate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent; and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble and indigestion with results.

KEEP A JAR OF MUSTEROLE HANDY

It Quickly Loosens Up Coughs and Colds in Throat or Chest

Just a little Musterole rubbed on your sore, tight chest before you go to bed will loosen up congestion and break up most severe colds and coughs.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made with oil of mustard. Simply rub it on. No plaster necessary. Better than mustard plaster and does not blister.

Thousands who use Musterole will tell what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds, (it often prevents pneumonia).

of universal training will take time, the report says an immediate need is to provide an adequate standing force for the protection of the country's borders and other similar service.

The committee merely presents facts and draws from them the conclusion that voluntary enlistment and dependence upon the dual federal and state control have proved a failure. It does not attempt to recommend any particular system of defense, holding that the details should be worked out by the military experts whose knowledge and experience are at the disposal of congress.

By direct inquiry of guardsmen, the committee ascertained that 65 per cent. of the men had to give up their regular civilian income when they went into service. Many of them, in addition, lost their positions and were unable to get them back when mustered out. There has been much surmise about enlistment in the future, but the committee went direct to the guardsmen and asked them whether they intended to re-enlist. Eighty-four per cent. of those who answered this question said "no." A great number declared emphatically for universal service, and said they would not do military duty henceforth under any other system.

Economic considerations received the main emphasis in the committee's inquiry. Letters and blanks were sent out to employers as well as guardsmen, and in this way information of a kind not contained in public documents was acquired. Guardsmen told about their pecuniary losses and the suffering caused their dependents; and employers told of the effect of the mobilization on business, and gave their conception a sound national military policy.

It is a curious story which the Providence Journal tells—that the president, when he communicates with Col. House, has to do so through Dr. Grayson because there have been so many "leaks" of confidential matter from the white house. If the plan worked well in the case of the Colonel, why didn't the president try it with the European belligerents?

We never could abide the fellow who talks learnedly on subjects he knows nothing about. And that, gentlemen, is why we have never attempted to diagnose the mind of a woman.

Madame, don't criticise your husband's pipe. So long as he smokes it he will not be "lifting" cigars from his friends' pockets.

Don't stop to "remark in passing." Keep right on going and you'll get there.

GERMANY READY TO FORMULATE TERMS

Holland Dispatches Say New Peace Move Was Decided at Conference on Kaiser's Birthday

IS WILLING TO TELL AMERICA

London, Jan. 31.—Germany is about to tell America that she is ready to formulate her peace terms if the allies request them, in a communication to Ambassador Bernstorff at Washington. Holland dispatches today gave this as a new German peace move apparently decided upon at the conference on the kaiser's birthday.

These reports aroused the greatest interest today but there was an entire lack of response to the suggestion that the allies submit it for a formal request of Germany's peace terms. England and her allies feel that they have sufficiently answered German peace terms as well as President Wilson's three notes on peace.

First intimation that Germany was sending another communication to America was made in dispatches received here Monday from Berlin. These followed persistent reports from Berlin that the Kaiser would mark his birthday by some further peace move.

MOTION PICTURE ACTORS.

Coached in Emotional Expression by Phonograph Music.

The lot of a movie star has its hours of trial and tribulation, as well as of satisfaction. The sharp call of the director to "register joy" or "register terror" or register any one of the thousand and one human emotions which are displayed upon the film must be obeyed, whatever the emotion which happens to be uppermost in the actor's mind at the moment. It is not easy always to have such facile command of the face, as is demanded for this work, either from the camera artist or the worker in the "legitimate," and for the former it is perhaps even harder than for the latter, since many of the accessories which go to throw the actor on the stage into the spirit of his work are absent in the studio. It cannot be easy to register longing in the midst of a babel of directors and property men and disengaged performers, with the camera grinding away in front of one and a half dozen strange "sets" being noisily erected on all sides.

To assist the actor in this thankless task the phonograph has been called into play. Picture the sweet country maid dreaming of her lover in a faroff land. The director tells her to look wistful, longing, melancholy or what you will. He gives the command "Go!" which is the signal for action, the talking machine is started, and the strains of "I Hear You Calling Me" are heard. A sympathetic note is struck in the heart of the actress, her facial expression is indicative of the effect of the music, and the proper mood is called forth.

"We know how much music enhances the effect of the motion picture as presented in the theater," says the director responsible for this innovation. "The audience does not often realize the importance of the musical accompaniment, but omit the music and they will feel the difference in a moment."—Philadelphia Press.

Notice is hereby given that the Rushville School City will on Thursday, the 15th day of February, 1917, at one o'clock (1:00) p. m. offer for sale thirty-two (32) bonds of said School City of $500.00 each, which bonds to be dated February 15th, 1917, and draw interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually on the 15th day of January and the 15th day of July in each year. The first of which bonds will mature on January 15th, 1927, and the last bond mature on July 15th, 1930.

Said bonds are being issued to redeem the debt of said School City in the sum of $16,000 and to reduce the rate of interest on said debt and to extend the time of payment thereof.

Said bonds will be sold at the office of Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, Treasurer of the School Board of Rushville, Indiana, and for not less than the par value of same.

Witness my hand this 23d day of January, 1917.

J. B. KINSINGER, Treasurer of School Board. Jan 24-31 Feb 7

A BAD BACK

(By L. W. BOWER, M. D.)

Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys, hence the congestion of blood causes backache in the same manner as a similar congestion in the head causes headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack of ambition to do things.

The latest and most effective means of overcoming this trouble, is to eat sparingly of meat, drink plenty of water between meals and take a single Anurie tablet before each meal for a while.

Simply ask your favorite druggist for Anurie (double strength) if you aren't feeling up to the standard. If you have lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, begin immediately this treatment with Anurie. Most scientists and medical men believe that because of an over-abundance of uric acid in the system, uratic salts are deposited in the tissues and cause rheumatism and gout.

The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Institution in Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested Anurie and have been with one accord successful in eradicating and throwing off from the system the uric acid which accumulates and poisons. Patients having once used Anurie at this institution have repeatedly sent back for more.

Such a demand has been created that Doctor Pierce decided to put Anurie in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. It will be their own fault if those suffering from uric acid troubles do not take advantage of this wonderful remedy—(Adv.)

HOMER AND MILROY PLAY

Will Serve to Settle Controversy at
Invitational Tournament

More than usual interest attached to the game between the Milroy and Homer basketball teams at Milroy next Friday night because it will serve to settle the controversy aroused at the recent invitational basketball tournament at Milroy for small high schools. A discussion arose over the score of the deciding game between these two quintets and it was never played out. The basketball, the trophy of the tournament, was given to Homer although Milroy did not concede a defeat by Homer. Since the tournament was on their floor, the Milroy players felt it would be courtesy on their part to give Homer the ball.

WHAT-YOU-MAY COLUMN

Macroni

Macaroni is a thing we have always wondered about.

We know, in a general way, that it is sent out from factories in boxes, looking very naked and white; and that it comes to the table wearing cheese.

Aside from that, macaroni is as much of a mystery to us as what the man says who goes past the house yelling for old clothes.

We have always wondered about the holes in macaroni. Are they set up in rows and the macaroni wrapped around them? Or are they bored, while the young macaroni is still unable to defend itself?

Also, what is macaroni made of? There's rubber, of course. We know that. But what else? We have been letting macaroni sliher down our throat off and on now for twenty-seven years; and yet if some stern faced scientist should suddenly stop us in the middle of a four-inch piece and ask us if we knew what we were swallowing, we could only answer: "Macaroni."

This is wrong. How long must the world go on without knowing more about its macaroni?

NEW MAGAZINES ARE ADDED

Librarians Disclose That Over Hundred Persons a Day Take Books From Library

An average of over a hundred persons take books from the public library here every day, is the report of the librarians, Miss Mary Sleeth and Miss Edith Wilk. During last week, the average went as high as 112 persons daily patronizing the library. Aside from this, no record is kept of the great number of persons who daily read the magazines in the library.

This year the list of magazines has been augmented by a number of new ones, particularly adapted to the business men; in fact, men in every line of work and of varied interest. Although the list is quite complete, a number of local people after reading their magazines, which are not on the subscription list of the library, donate them for use. There are greatly appreciated as are the books which are being given to the library frequently.

The news books that are being purchased regularly cater to the readers who manifest particular interest in one line of work. A number of the new books have been recommended and commented upon by Miss Donnan, Prof. Jenkins and other well-informed literary lecturers who appear here. The most valuable asset to the library in the past few months are the twelve volumes by Burbank, containing facts about plant life and excellent illustrations. The library is open to the public from 10 until 5 o'clock daily and until 8 o'clock on Saturday.

The apparent appreciation of the library has added a new stimulus to the talk for a library building, to accommodate the patronage which is outgrowing the present location. The success of the buildings in towns much larger than this has proved that the project would be successful.

At present, the following periodicals are on the subscription list of the library for the use of the public: American City, American Magazine, Atlantic Monthly, Bookman, Boy's Life, Century Magazine, Educational Review, Everybody's Magazine, Forum, Good Housekeeping, Harper's Magazine, House and Garden, Illustrated World, Illustrated London News, Independent, Ladies Home Journal, Literary Digest, Little Folks, McClure's Magazine, Modern Priscilla, Outlook, Popular Mechanics, Saint Nicholas, Saturday Evening Post, Scientific American, Something to Do, Vogue, Youth's Companion, Country Gentleman, Recreation, John Martin's Boy, System, Factory and Christian Science Monitor.

Rural route carriers reported yesterday that they had difficulty getting over their routes due to the condition of the roads. Most of the carriers were late on their schedules because no time could be made on the heavy roads.

The fact that Rush county has mile after mile of improved highway made no difference as the freezing and thawing process affected all roads alike. Most of the farmers realize the condition of the roads and as a result there has been less hauling of all kinds.

Changes Coming In 1917==
Be Ready!

The business man well entrenched in domestic trade, the business man with a growing circle of customers, need not worry about his future for 1917. The business man who has been fooling himself because he has been taking in more dollars, but in reality selling fewer customers may have a sudden awakening. It is the number of customers that will count for stability when readjustment comes. This applies to every form of business. It applies especially to manufacturers selling to consumers through dealers. These men should be entrenching themselves with more customers, more dealers and more enthusiastic dealers. They should be extending their outposts of newspaper advertising. They should be digging in as never before.

Harmony Club with Mr. and Mrs. Will Trennepohl at 220 Buena Vista Avenue, in the evening.

Thursday Afternoon Card Club, with Miss Grace Buell at country home east of the city, in the afternoon.

Women's Missionary society of United Presbyterian church of Glenwood, with Mrs. A. P. Reynolds of Glenwood, in the afternoon.

D. T. Club, with Mrs. Knowles Casady at 224 West Ninth street, in the afternoon.

Lurline council of Pocahontas at Red Men hall, in the evening.

The Pirate Bridge Club, which was to have met with Mrs. Will Bliss tomorrow afternoon, will be entertained instead by Mrs. O. M. Dale at her home in North Main street.

In entertaining the members of her card club yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Albert Capp was hostess to a few extra guests, making three tables in play during the pleasant afternoon at her country home south of the city. A delicious luncheon was served following the Bridge games.

About forty members of the Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul's M. E. church were the guests of Mrs. Horatio Havens and Mrs. Walter Niles at the home of Mrs. Havens in North Harrison street yesterday afternoon. During the business session, plans were discussed for holding a rummage sale in the near future. A social hour followed while beautiful music was played on the Victrola and dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. M. S. Hobbs of Salem, Ind., was a guest.

At the meeting of the Shakespeare Club held with Mrs. Glenn Thomas last evening at the home of Mrs. Jane Kincaid in North Morgan street, a very interesting program was given on Thomas Hardy. The book review of the program was given by Miss Kate Dennis who told the story of "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," perhaps Hardy's best known book. She dealt with it in a very comprehensive and most interesting manner, laying stress upon the character of Tess, and the simplicity in her motives. Miss Frances Frazee read a paper on the life and works of Hardy, speaking of his love for nature illustrated in his books and the effect of his early architectural experience upon his style. Miss Nelle Baldwin dealt with the characteristics and policy of Hardy, the stern realist.

During the social period which followed the program, music was played on the Victrola and a dainty reception was served to the eighteen guests including practically all of the club members.

Prof. Jenkins will speak on "Thomas Hardy, the Ironist" before the members of the club on February 10th. The next regular meeting will be for hostesses, Mrs. John Kipner, Mrs. Will Coleman, and Miss Hennietta Coleman. Assisting hostesses last evening were the Misses Edith Wilk and Frances Frazee.

A group of congenial friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Tittsworth in North Main street last evening for a pitch-in supper and social good time together. After the service of the elegant meal, the evening was pleasantly spent by Mr. and Mrs. G. P. McCarty, Miss Jennie Madden, Mrs. L. C. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Zimmer and Prof. and Mrs. S. F. Stewart.

Several new members were voted into the B. N. club at their last meeting held Monday evening at the home of Miss Ethel Oakley. The newly elected members are the Misses Pauline Gosnell, Maymie Kautz, Sarah Whitesides and Sylvia Lakin. Several other matters were brought up during the business meeting, which preceded a pleasant social time. Pink and white, the club colors, were used in the pretty decorations, of carnations and in the dainty luncheon served by the hostess. Six members of the club were present. Miss Pauline Gessler will entertain the club in two weeks.

WANT MONEY FOR PERRY MEMORIAL

Indiana Legislature Asked to appropriate Toward Fund to Pay For Tablet.

ORIGINALLY ASKED IN 1908

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The Indiana legislature was today asked to make an appropriation toward the Perry memorial fund. The request was presented at a conference between Gov. Goodrich, members of the ways and means committee of the house and members of the memorial commission.

The members of the memorial commission who attended the conference were Col. McKenzie R. Todd of Frankfort, Ky.; Gen. J. Warren Keifer, Springfield, O., and Webster P. Huntington of Columbus, O.

In 1908 all states bordering on the Great Lakes were asked by the Ohio legislature to contribute to a Perry Memorial fund. All states responded except Indiana and Minnesota. The states held Centennial celebrations and erected a monument to Perry, near Put-in-Bay, O., overlooking the scene of the famous battle on Lake Erie. A bronze tablet to Gen. William Henry Harrison was placed in the memorial.

The memorial has been completed except for a few details and Indiana's appropriation is asked to enable the commission to finish its work.

Following their conference with the Indiana legislators, the commission members left for Minnesota where they will make a similar request of the Gopher legislature.

Stuffed Peppers

Wash a dozen large red peppers; cut off the tops and remove seeds and veins. Mix together one cupful of bread crumbs, one small chopped onion, one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful sugar, one tablespoonful butter, and pulp and juice of six chopped tomatoes, or one whole can. Fill peppers, place in pan with small piece of butter on each. Dredge with a little flour and bake rather slowly until tender—about twenty minutes. Serve hot on lettuce leaves and garnish with sliced olives and parsley.

RECIPES

Even though at this season of the year, there are not a great number of nutritious vegetables to choose from, this difficulty is partially overcome by the various ways of arranging them in different and tasty dishes. A few suggestions follow for the more common vegetables.

Creole Sweet Potatoes

The potatoes should be washed and boiled with the skins on until they are nearly done and then peeled. They should be sliced lengthwise, not too thin, and fried in butter and then sprinkled with brown sugar, maple sugar, shaved thin, or molasses. They can be cooked sometime before they are needed and kept in a warming oven. It is not the ingredients used in the creole preparation of sweet potatoes so much as the careful cooking that makes them famous.

Cauliflower

Remove the leaves from one head of cauliflower, place in sauce-pan stem end down, cover with boiling water, add one teaspoonful of salt and boil, uncovered, thirty-five minutes. Drain, place in tureen and cover with sauce.

Sauce—Put one tablespoonful of butter into saucepan; when melted add one tablespoonful of flour; mix well and add a cup of cold milk slowly, stirring until smooth and creamy; then add the juice of half a lemon.

Potato Puffs

Eight medium sized potatoes, one teaspoonful of salt, a dash of white pepper, two teaspoonfuls of finely cut parsley and two teaspoonfuls of butter. Wash and boil the potatoes twenty minutes. Drain when cool, skin and mash; add the salt, pepper, parsley and one teaspoonful of butter; mix well and beat until light. The other teaspoonful of butter you may use to brush the small pans in which the puffs are baked, or you may brush a bake pan and bake all in one large puff. This amount makes six large individual puffs or one small bake pan.

Sweet Potato Pudding

To a large sweet potato weighing two pounds, take half pound sugar, half pound butter, one gill sweet cream, one gill cider or fruit juice, one grated nutmeg, a little lemon peel, four eggs. Boil potato till done, and mash fine; while hot, add sugar and butter. Line tin plates with puff paste and put in mixture. Bake in moderate but regularly heated oven. When the puddings are drawn from the fire cover with thinly sliced bits of preserved citron or quince marmalade. Strew the top thickly with granulated sugar and serve with the addition of a glass of rich milk for each person at the table.

Curried Tomatoes

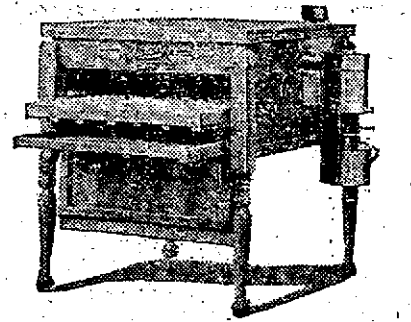

Slice tomatoes very thickly, place in a baking dish—not buttered—and then pour over them a sauce made as follows: Two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of curry, two teaspoonfuls of salt, pepper.

The butter and flour must be mixed thoroughly, then the milk added and other seasonings. The liquid is poured over the tomatoes and baked until they are tender.

The ordinary "scalloped tomatoes" with breadcrumb foundation can be varied by using some of the other combinations—rice, spaghetti, macaroni, mashed chestnuts, corn scraped from the cob and other vegetables.

Remove all dust from your patent-leather shoes with a damp cloth. As soon as dry, rub two drops of castor oil or vaseline into the tops, and polish with a woolen cloth. This prevents cracking.

DRY BILL COMES UP TOMORROW

Fate of State Wide Prohibition Measure Will Likely be Decided at That Time

COMES UP FOR THIRD READING

Thousand of Workers are Preparing to Invade Indianapolis to Support Bill

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The fate of Indiana's saloons, as far as the present legislature is concerned, will probably be decided at tomorrow's session of the upper house of the legislature.

According to present indications, the Wright Prohibition bill, which has already passed the house, will come up for third reading and a vote in the senate tomorrow.

Thousands of prohibition workers from all parts of the state are preparing to come to Indianapolis tomorrow for a great demonstration when the prohibition measure comes up for final action. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the anti-saloon league, predicted today that there would be 500,000 prohibition workers in the city tomorrow.

The fate of the measure was still uncertain today, with both sides claiming victory. About the only thing certain regarding the action which the senate will take is that it will be close.

Several senators have refused to make known what stand they will take until their vote is cast. The dries are practically certain of twenty-four and the wets of at least twenty-one. This leaves four in the doubtful column.

One thing which was considered significant today, however, was the fact that the dry workers are asking immediate action on the prohibition bill, despite the fact that a new senator will be elected from LaGrange, Noble and Steuben counties—a dry district—next week, to succeed the late Senator Greene. It is stated that the prohibitionists would not desire the senate to act on the bill until after the new senator is elected, if they were not confident that they would be victorious without the aid of the legislator to be elected to succeed Greene.

HARDWARE MEN MEETING

Convention This Year is Sort of a Short Course

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The eighteenth annual Indiana hardware exhibition and convention was on today at the German house. The meeting will continue until Friday.

The convention this year is sort of a "short course" in instruction for hardware dealers over the state. Hardware dealers will be instructed in buying, selling, management, credits, collections and business records.

J. S. Knox, president of the Knox salesmanship school of Cleveland spoke at the morning session today on "Buying, Selling and Business Management." James W. Fisk, manager of the retail service and business systems of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, spoke this afternoon on credits and collections.

Douglas Morris

since the expiration of his term as Supreme Court Judge, has resumed the practice of law at Rushville, and has removed his office from the Bodine block to Rooms 7, 8 and 9, on upper east floor of Miller Law Bldg. Telephone 2182.

SANITATION AS A PREVENTATIVE

Physician Shows How it Lessens Danger of Tuberculosis Among Factory Workers

CONVENTION ENDS TONIGHT

(By United Press.) South Bend, Ind., Jan. 31.—Dr. Harry Smock, chief surgeon for the Sears Roebuck company, spoke before the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis in session here today on prevention of tuberculosis in industries. He explained how increased sanitation, better ventilation and medical care for employees served to lessen the danger of tuberculosis.

Miss Gwynedd Webster of Goshen spoke on the "Extension of Community Nursing." She told of the great work which is being done by public nurses toward preventing spread of the White Plague.

George E. O'Brien, South Bend, President of the Board of Healthwin hospital; Dr. Eric Cull, director of the Ft. Recovery hospital, Ft. Wayne, E. B. Wetherow, superintendent of Miami county schools; Miss Mary Ogilvie, Evansville and Edwin L. Rickert, superintendent of Connersville schools, spoke at this afternoon's session.

The convention will close with a banquet tonight.

PERPETUATE COMMISSION

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Representative McClaskey is preparing a bill which he will introduce in the house shortly to perpetuate the Indiana Centennial Historical commission. The bill will provide that the commission consist of three members, instead of nine as at present, to serve without compensation. An appropriation of $6,000 a year would be made to carry on the work of the commission.

Obituary.

The funeral services of Mary Ann Alger were held at her late residence on North Morgan street, Rushville, Ind., Tuesday, Jan. 30th, 1917. Rev. W. M. Whittitt, officiated, Homer Truener very beautifully sang, "Rock of Ages," and Jesus Lover of My Soul."

A large number of floral tributes were given by son, daughter and husband granddaughter and husband and many beautiful flowers from friends and neighbors.

Mary Ann Griffin was born, November 29th, 1826 in Union county, Penn. When two years of age her parents moved to Ohio and then to Indiana. On July 2d, 1845. She was married to Josiah Conklin Alger. They resided east of Rushville for a number of years, and were residents of Rushville thirty-three years. Had Mr. and Mrs. Alger lived until the 2nd day of July, they would have been married seventy-two years.

Mr. Alger passed away Dec. 27th, 1912, at the age of 89 years.

Mrs. Alger was a member of the Methodist church. She was taken to her bed on Jan. 1st and came to the end very peacefully on Sunday morning, Jan. 28th, 1917 at 9:45 o'clock.

She is survived by two children Mrs. L. H. Doughty and Charles H. Alger and one grand-daughter, Mrs. John M. Depweg.

Time goes on and on and each day, one by one we slip away.

Mrs. Alger had a poem she very much liked.

"When I go home" A little while and then the summer day—

"When I go home" Beyond the gloom of more and for I see

The welcome warm of those who wait for me

Work ceases not in sunshine or in shower.

"Till I go Home."

And when the night wind moans across the wood

I feel no dread of dark nor chill of cold.

All will be well and happiness.

"When I go home."

There will be light at even tide for me.

The light that never was on land or sea.

"When I go Home."

COMPELLED BY LAW

Men are compelled by LAW to provide for their dependents. DEATH RELEASES MEN, not from their obligations, but from the LAW. THE MAN WHO RECOGNIZES THE UNCERTAINTY OF LIFE—and of wealth—buys, while health permits, the kind of insurance that a family can SURELY depend on if he dies first, and FOR HIMSELF, also, if he reaches old age. Massachusetts Mutual is that kind of insurance.

HOOSIER BRIEFS

Terre Haute—Harry D. Dill appeared at the courthouse to procure a marriage license. When he learned the amount the license cost, he was forced to go out and "touch" a friend for the amount necessary.

Gary—Gary's first life insurance company is being formed. It will be known as the Gary National Life Insurance Company.

Brazil—The Otter Creek Coal Company here is mining both block and bituminous coal, and union officials are unable to decide whether the workers should come under the jurisdiction of the bituminous or block miners union.

Hartford City—The Main street ward school building of Montpelier has been condemned by the state board of health and cannot be used for school purposes after next June.

Evansville—Vanderburgh county's road school opened at the court house today.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

PUBLIC SALE OF LIVE STOCK

The undersigned will sell at Public Sale at the Cullen farm, one and one-mile west of Rushville, on

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 14th, 1917

the following described live stock

12 Draft Mares 12

These are a useful lot with plenty of size, bone and substance, four to eight years old, sorrels, bays, browns, blacks and grays. Some good pairs among them. Ready any day for the plow. Some in foal.

AVAIL YOURSELF OF THIS OPPORTUNITY

30 Head of Cattle 30 TWELVE SHORTHORN COWS AND HEIFERS

This is an exceptionally good bunch, all bred to Registered bull, some with calves at side. A lot of first class milkers.

Five Polled Shorthorn bulls, almost ready for service, an extra fine bunch. Also a few heifer calves. One coming two-year-old steer, a good one. The red, white and roans were never more popular. Buy a few good ones.

SIX HEAD OF SELECT JERSEY COWS

to be fresh soon or calves at side. This is a chance for a good butter cow.

85 Head of Hogs 85 60 — DUDOC SOWS — 60

This, I think, is one of the best and most uniform offerings I have ever presented to the public and certainly there was never a more opportune time to invest in a good brood sow. They are strictly pure-bred, out of mature sows and boars and bred to boars out of $500 and $1000 sires, for March and April farrow. They have had plenty of exercise, are strong and vigorous and should prove a profitable investment at almost any price. Come, take a few good ones home with you.

ONE YEARLING BOAR. TWO SPRING BOARS.
TWENTY-FIVE CHOICE FEEDERS

20 Shropshire Ewes 20 Sired by an Imported Ram

Their dams and grand-dams for several generations are also by Imported sires. One to four years old, bred to Registered Ram. Sheep and wool are so high in the market I hesitated to make this offering, but hope the opportunity to get a few such ewes will be appreciated.

Sale to be held entirely under cover at the Cullen farm, beginning at 10:00 a. m. sharp, Wednesday, February 14, 1917.

COME RAIN OR SHINE, YOU WILL BE MADE COMFORTABLE

TERMS—A credit until Dec. 25, 1917, will be given on all sums of $20 or over, purchaser giving note with approved security. 5% off for cash. No property to be removed until settled for.

The Anker Holth Cream Separator

is the only Self Balancing Separator on the market. And the bowl is guaranteed to stay in balance the life of the machine. The Anker Holth skims the cleanest and is the easiest to keep clean and can be washed in one half the time you can wash any other separator. Every user of an Anker Holth remarks—HOW EASY it turns. This fact is especially noticeable to those who have operated other separators. A child can operate an Anker Holth with ease. The self oiling system—has no oil holes no feed cups—it simply runs in a bath of oil, and every two or three months change the oil by removing a set screw.

The Anker Holth contains fewer mechanical parts than any other separator made. And the bowl being self draining makes it non freezing in cold weather. There is no number on the disk and they are all interchangeable—they do not have to be kept on a stringer to wash them.

Nothing but the highest grade of steel and the best phosphar bronze and the most durable tinware goes into the construction of the Anker Holth.

The Anker Holth Cream Separator is the best Separator on the market today for Efficiency, Simplicity, Sanitation, Satisfaction and Durability

DR. LITTELL GOES ON TRIAL

Former Minister Faces Charge of Contributing to Delinquency

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Joseph A. Littell, lecturer and former minister, went on trial today in Juvenile court on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of Helen Steinhauer, 16 years old. The girl was arrested in company with several colored women, in a raid on a resort. Littell was in court when the girl's case came up for trial and he expressed a deep interest in the child's welfare.

Judge Lahr granted the man's request that he be appointed her adviser, with the provision that she remain the ward of the court. The girl told a probation officer that Littell took her home and in the absence of his family, gave her wine.

VISITORS TO NEW YORK.

They Crowd the Natives Off Broadway and Into the Side Streets.

It has often been remarked by visitors from Denver and other scientific investigators that New York's Broadway is apparently patronized by people from all over the world except the native resident of New York. And it is probably true that Seattle knows its way about the Kialto at least as well as does East Seventy-second street, and the cabarets along the great white way see more money from Des Moines than from Amsterdam avenue. The fact of the matter is that the out of town visitor, descending upon the metropolis trained to the minute, with the express intention and determination of taking in Broadway, succeeds largely in crowding the native off the walk.

Hence it has come about that other New York streets which never attain more than a local fame have become pleasure grounds for the real New Yorker, who leaves the streets and the restaurants of world reputation to the hordes of the invader. Such a street, for instance, is One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, often called by its frequenters the "uptown Broadway." One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street lies in the apartment house section, about in the middle of the long, narrow city that is modern New York. From here to the Battery is a long ride on the express trains, and from here to the limits of New York, up beyond the Bronx, is a longer ride by local. The dweller in this section rarely takes either of these rides. He goes down to the office in the morning and in the evening returns to his own little side street. If he craves amusement he strolls down One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.—New York Letter in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Large Power Easily Controlled.
In some cases a 1,000 ton or 1,500 ton press may be controlled by one finger upon the clutch lever, so that the ram will rise one-eighth of an inch or so at a time. More often, however, a press is set so that the ram will always stop at the top of its stroke, and the control of this condition is usually made by a foot treadle, although sometimes with a handle also or with a handle alone. Generally such presses are arranged for continuous running. This is often practicable with long, slow strokes.—Oberlin Smith in Engineering Magazine.

A Common Cause of Failure.
"What happened to Flivver? He was always full of ambition and just about to accomplish great things, but somehow he has failed to achieve anything in particular."
"Oh, he hitched his wagon to a star and forgot to fasten the rear end gate."—Kansas City Star.

All Depends.
"What shall I charge for fixing up whiskers?"
"All depends," answered the boss barber. "Some I give a bit of a clip for nothing. Others you want to charge the same rates a laundry gets for lace curtains."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Why It Worried Him.
"What are you looking so glum about, old man?"
"Somebody stole Dawson's umbrella."
"But why should that worry you?"
"It was stolen from me."

CANNOT GIVE NAMES.

Almost every day there are want ads in The Daily Republican which give an initial or number as the address. To answer these kind of advertisements it is necessary to drop a note or card addressed to the initial or number given in care of The Daily Republican. It will be useless to call up the office and ask who inserted the ad. Many times the name of the advertiser is not known and even if it were, would not be given. The advertiser who uses this method undoubtedly prefers not to have his name known and The Daily Republican will not give it.

italist, and politician, who lives in Washington, but whose voting residence has always been Muncie, was chosen chairman of the convention, not, however, without opposition on the part of the Gregory and Forkner forces, who believed Mr. Heath was very friendly to, and favored the nomination of Henry U. Johnson.

The interests of Mr. Johnson, who had the largest number of delegates in the convention, and whose nomination seemed probable from the first, were directed by Dick Jackson of Richmond, a large man, with a loud and raucous voice, who assumed an attitude of aggressiveness that at once injected into the convention proceedings, a feeling of bitterness, which did not make for party harmony.

John K. Gowdy, then county auditor, headed the Rush county delegation, which remained loyal, and continued to vote for Judge Cullen until the Henry and Delaware county delegations finally broke; some of them going to Johnson, insuring his nomination.

Ralph S. Gregory's forces were led by George F. McCullough, of Muncie, who, because of a personal resemblance, and his brilliant oratory, was known as the Robert G. Ingersoll of the district. Later Mr. McCullough became one of the leading traction promoters in Indiana; he was also promoter of, and established the Star League of Newspapers, with papers at Indianapolis, Terre Haute, and Muncie, under one management. The million dollars that Mr. McCullough made in the newspaper business, was lost in the newspaper enterprise, and his ambition to wield a powerful influence in Indiana politics, through a syndicate of republican newspapers, was never realized. In 1897, when John K. Gowdy was appointed Consul General to Paris, and resigned as chairman of the republican state committee, Mr. McCullough, was elected to succeed him. Later the Star League passed into other hands, and Mr. McCullough went to New York to live, where he died a few years ago.

After the Newcastle contention was organized with Perry S. Heath as chairman, the alternate delegate from his precinct was seated in the Delaware county delegation. When the entire vote of the county was cast for Mr. Gregory, under the unit rule, the alternate questioned the accuracy of the vote. Mr. McCullough, who had been instructed to cast the vote for his candidate, claimed that Mr. Heath, the delegate was present, and that the alternate was occupying a seat in the delegation by courtesy, and since the vote was challenged, the delegate, and not the alternate, should vote when the delegation was polled. Mr. Heath occupying the chair, in a moment of dramatic silence, cast his vote for Mr. Gregory, and there was nothing in his attitude as presiding officer, during the proceedings of the convention to indicate that he was unfriendly to the candidacy of his fellow townsman.

It was known to Judge Forkner's friends that Henry U. Johnson's representatives had gone into Henry county and secured the election of two delegates, whose votes could be depended upon at any time they were required. Forkner was considered the most formidable candidate against Johnson, but with a divided delegation from his own county, his chances for the nomination seemed doubtful. A meeting of the Forkner delegates was held on the morning of, and previous to the convention at which the question of removing two delegates, was discussed, but the delegates whose loyalty was questioned, declared their willingness to allow the vote of the county to be cast as a unit and they were permitted to participate in the convention.

After balloting for several hours without a nomination, the accuracy of the vote of Henry county was challenged, and on being polled, two delegates, Mr. Lemon and Mr. Crull, from the Knightstown district, cast their votes for Henry U. Johnson. This break, the first in the vote of any of the delegations from a county having a candidate, caused intense excitement. On the next ballot the Delaware county delegation also divided its vote between Gregory and Johnson. This was followed by changes in the vote of counties having no candidates, resulting in the nomination of Henry U. Johnson.

Judge Forkner moved that the nomination be made unanimous, humorously referring to the fact that he seemed to have too much Lemonate and too many Crulls in his delegation. The motion was seconded by Judge Cullen, and then followed an embarrassing silence, while the convention waited for Mr. Gregory to join in making the nomination unanimous. But he refused, and left the convention hall denouncing in bitter terms what he designated his betrayal by his county. Mr. Gregory refused to affiliate with the republican party during that campaign. It is reported that he later voted the populist ticket, and finally became identified with the democratic party.

Henry U. Johnson, was elected to congress for several terms. Later the district was changed, Randolph and Delaware being added to the Eighth, and other counties included in the Sixth. In the second congressional convention, held in the district after the change, James E. Watson was nominated to succeed Mr. Johnson. After his defeat, Johnson voted the democratic ticket and used his tremendous energies to defeat the party that had honored him.

In 1908, Mr. Watson declined to be a candidate for congress, to accept the republican nomination for Governor. Since that the Sixth district, which for many years was regarded as an impregnable stronghold, has been represented by Finley Gray of Connersville, a democrat, who was defeated in the last election by Judge Daniel W. Comstock of Richmond, which will, after March 4, next, give the district a republican representative. R. E. MANSFIELD.
